TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

Wants Plumber Elected to Board of Health—Mayor Still Ill—Other City Hall News

The Trades and Labor Council, speaking for organized labor, suggests that if there is to be a vacancy on the board of health it should be filled by a practical plumber, and one that would have the courage and ability to see that all laws and regulations are properly and impartially enforced. The letter to Commissioner Lawrence Cummings from the secretary of the council tells the story:

Dear Sir:

During the past year the board of health of the city of Lowell has been composed of two physicians and one druggist.

It has been a number of years since any member has been conversant with or has had any knowledge of the practical enforcement of the laws regulating the plumbing business.

The result has been that the enforcement of these laws has been very lax and is at the present time notoriously inefficient.

We feel that the best interests of the taxpayers of Lowell will be served by the election of a practical plumber as a member of the board of health and as members of organized labor and citizens of the city of Lowell we urge you to consider the candidacy of William P. E. Keefe, a man with a wide knowledge of the plumbing laws and with the courage and ability to see that all laws and regulations are properly and impartially enforced.

Hoping that you will see your way clear to favor the candidacy of Mr. Keefe and by so doing help to place a member of organized labor in office at city hall, I am,

Sincerely yours,

J. H. Shepard,
Secretary Local 100,

The Mayor Still Ill

Mayor James E. O'Donnell, is still quite ill at his home in Mt. Vernon street, though it was stated this forenoon that his condition was somewhat improved. The mayor was threatened with pneumonia, but it is believed that he has passed the danger line. He will not be able, however, to attend the meeting of the municipal council called for tomorrow afternoon and he probably will not be able to leave his home for a week or ten days. His honor was looked for quite a number of engagements this week beginning tonight with the Fat Men's club. This "bunch" of jolly good fellows has planned for a good time. City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy will represent the mayor at the banquet.

Storage of Gasoline

Commissioner Lawrence Cummings went to Boston today to consult with the state police relative to the storage, use and sale of gasoline in this city. A number of persons in Lowell who handle gasoline seem to think that Commissioner Cummings has been a bit too stringent in his policy for the handling of the stuff. The commissioner has required that tanks containing gasoline shall be buried in the ground and that all pipes leading to the tank shall be covered in order to prevent danger from cigar butts, cigarette stubs or lighted matches. The commissioner has been told that other cities do not exact such precautions and dealers have suggested that it rather hampered the business. "I want to find out just what the state police have to say about the handling, storage, use and sale of gasoline and whatever is their policy I will follow it out to the letter," I will see them this afternoon," said Mr. Cummings.

Your Redemption is Nigh

H. L. Burnett, editor of "The Little White Dove," published in Chicago, Ill. has addressed a communication to City Clerk Flynn, together with a declaration in which it is hinted that the Messiah is on the way. Chicago is referred to as "City of Zion" and the chances are that if the Messiah gets by Chicago he may come east and, with the supplication of the local board of trade, he might decide to settle in Lowell. Mr. Burnett wants to know how much it would cost to have the declaration containing several hundred words, recorded in the public documents. The declaration is decidedly formidable. It presages that out of Judea and from among the lost of Israel will come eight princes among men. The scheme is for the eight princes to get together and agree upon one to be ordained "High Priest of Israel." Forty-five days after this ordination it is declared that the Messiah will put in an appearance. Listen to these "thunderous" words, spoken by the prophet of the city of Zion and contained in the declaration: "Behold, now, O Israel! be warned, O Judea! The signs of His presence are soon to be made manifest, even as it is written." The declaration is dated Jan.

Barbarous Crime

Said to Have Resulted from Attempt To Rescue Prisoners, but Madero Party Charges a Foul Plot to Remove Both Men.

THE LATE PRES. MADERO

Universal consternation will hardly express the feeling that pervades the civilized world today as a result of the murder of Former President Madero and Former Vice President Suarez in Mexico City. The dictators who accomplished the overthrow of the Madero government disclaim responsibility for this heinous crime, saying it resulted from an attempt to rescue the prisoners. The murder of Gustavo Madero was deliberately ordered and barbarously carried out, and this latest atrocity whether ordered or not by the new regime will turn public opinion in this country against the new officials so that no further abuse of American interests will be tolerated. Moreover it is likely that the United States will follow the example of England and refuse to recognize the new government until it shall have been confirmed by a general election.

FORMER PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO KILLED IN STREETS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Former President Madero and former Vice President Suarez were killed in the streets of Mexico City in a battle between their guard and two groups of men who were seeking to overthrow the government and rescue them, according to an official telegram from R. Francisco de la Barra, minister for foreign relations received at the Mexican embassy early today. It was not made clear which side fired the fatal shots. Several were wounded in the attempt to rescue, the report stated.

Both the bodies of Senors Madero and Suarez, Senor de la Barra assures the embassy, "will be buried with all the honors due to the high positions which they held."

The report continues that "there was a general desire for peace throughout Mexico" and that the government looked forward to the future with optimism.

OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION INTO DEATHS OF MADERO AND SUAREZ

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24.—An official investigation into the deaths of ex-President Francisco Madero and ex-Vice President Jose Pino Suarez on Sunday night is to be initiated at once. The general belief prevails here that the result will be the substantiation of all the essential features of the official version of the occurrences. The fact that the bodies of the statesmen were recovered in the rear of the penitentiary is explained by the statement that a second encounter occurred close to the building. It is said the automobiles ran along a side road and that Madero and Suarez jumped out and were running when they were caught between the fire of the rural guards and that of the assault battalions, thus accounting for wounds being inflicted on them from different directions.

Provisional President Huerta and the other officials here are earnest in their declarations that the government was acting in good faith and that the death of the prisoners was due solely to the results of unforeseen circumstances.

With the general opinion prevails that the consensus of the situation has been removed. There is a marked tendency on the part of all classes of society to accept the new order of things as the best and from various parts of the country reports have been received telling of further adhesions to the new administration. The morning newspapers also herald the new era and prophesy immediate peace and the early resumption of prosperous conditions.

General Huerta's government, undoubtedly has now at least the upper hand in the country. A committee of followers of Emiliano Zapata arrived here last night to discuss with the government arrangements to bring about peace in the south.

Gen. Chico Campes, one of the most prominent followers of Pascual Orozco, Jr., has sent word to Gen. Truce Aubert in Terreon that he desires peace.

Reports from the state of Oaxaca indicate that the disaffected Indians there have been placated and that he have been placed under the private secretary of Francisco Madero, who had been under arrest since the upheaval in the capital, has been released and it is probable that a number of others connected with the late government also will be soon set at liberty.

TROOPS ORDERED TO GALVESTON TO PREPARE FOR SERVICE—WAR DEPT. ACTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—More orders for moving troops to Galveston with the purpose of concentrating a full army division there in accordance with the policy of preparedness as outlined by President Taft in a public speech in New York last Saturday night, were issued by the war department early today. Major General William H. Carter, the department and division commander at Chicago will be placed in supreme command.

In addition to the fourth brigade of the second division consisting of the 23rd, 26th and 25th infantry, now in the middle west, orders were issued today for the preparation for training of the entire sixth brigade, comprising the 11th infantry, Col. Arthur Williams, at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, the 15th infantry, Col. Thomas F. Davis, at Fort McKean, Wyoming, and Fort Bliss, Texas, the 22nd infantry, Col. Daniel A. Frederick at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The fourth field artillery, the second battalion of engineers and signal corps Company D, comprising part of the sixth brigade have been ordered to Galveston.

It will not be possible to accommodate all the second division troops on

There were about 150 teachers present from all parts of the state as a majority of teachers to attend. There were no Lowell teachers present, however, but they were represented by the members of the school committee who spoke in favor of the proposition.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Ernest MacKenzie, president of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation and he was followed by John C. Farrington of the school committee of Lowell. Mr. Farrington said he was in favor of any legislation that would give to the teacher a greater feeling of security and add to his or her peace of mind. He said that under the present state of affairs the teacher is without protection. "I might get up at a meeting of the committee," said Mr. Farrington, "and move that a teacher be removed. If a majority of the committee voted in favor of the motion the teacher would be removed and he or she would have no redress." The other members of the Lowell school committee spoke in favor of the bill.

Speakers other than these included Frank M. Merriam of Newburyport, and Miss Hathaway of North Adams. After having heard Mr. MacKenzie, the Lowell school board members, and Mr. Merriam and Miss Hathaway, the committee chairman said that the committee did not care to hear others unless they had something new to offer. THE LOWELL SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Attend Hearing in Boston and Favor Bill Providing Tenure of Office for Teachers

A hearing on the bill accompanying the petition of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation to provide a tenure of office for certain teachers in the public schools was held before the committee on education at the state house this afternoon. It was stated in section one of the act that the word "teacher" means any teacher, principal, supervisor or superintendent employed by a school committee or board of trustees in a public school. Section two explains the tenure of office and reads as follows:

"The service of all teachers shall be during good behavior and efficiency, after the expiration of a period of employment of three consecutive years from the time of the first election by the school committee, and the length of time any teacher has taught in the town or city in which he is employed at the time this act shall take effect shall be counted in determining such period of employment."

ADJOURNMENT IN DORR TRIAL

Illness of Defendant Causes Interruption in Case—Several Witnesses Heard

SALEM, Feb. 24.—Because of the illness of the defendant, the trial of Harry C. Atwell and Attorney Neil Barry, representing the prosecution and defense respectively, and Judge Quinn, the conference was held in the judge's chambers and no indication of its nature was given out. After Judge Quinn took his seat on the bench, William H. Hinton, a Boston handwriting expert, was called to the stand. He testified that the writing in the "diary" which was read Friday, the letter to Miss Orpha Marsh offered in evidence and other exhibits submitted to him were all done by the defendant.

SEARCH FOR GOLD PROVES FATAL

One Nearly Starved to Death, One Lost Two Feet, Another Became Insane and Died

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Feb. 24.—Of the three prospectors who started a month ago from Atlin, a placer camp on the Yukon line in search of gold, one is nearly starved to death, one lost two feet and one became insane from cold and died, it is reported in advice received today. The men started from Silver Creek. They had to break their own trail and traveled light, expecting to replenish their stores at trading post near Jessel Lake. The trading post was found abandoned. One man, sent back for more supplies, lost his way and was rescued by Indians when nearly dead. The mind of one of the two remaining, a Swede named Lindemann, became affected and in his desire for warmth he jumped into a campfire. Redmond, his companion pulled him out, but he died before he could be taken to the hospital. Redmond buried the body in the ice and turned the dogs loose and followed them wherever they went. They finally led to an Indian camp and the Indians took him to Atlin, where both feet were amputated.

TO THE POLICE OFFICERS

Dr. Tighe Gives Valuable
Pointers

A large number of police officers listened attentively to the third of the series of talks by Dr. M. A. Tighe at the police station yesterday. The physician took for his subject the method of distinguishing alcoholic intoxication from the various diseases which at times show surface indications similar to it.

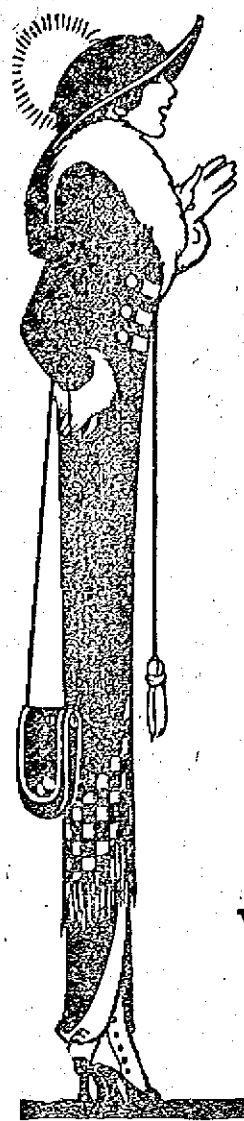

The address was in part as follows: "The principal conditions which you will be called upon to distinguish from intoxication are opium poisoning, chloral hydrate poisoning, hemorrhage of the brain or apoplexy, concussion of the brain, uraemia and diabetes. Alcohol exerts its influence chiefly on the central nervous system. In intoxicating quantities it manifests itself by muscular incoordination. The man is described as staggering, he goes along with the head, chest and hips thrown far back, his chin elevated and abdomen thrown forward, presenting the picture of one who is walking on ice and is fearful that his legs will slip forward from under him. No, my friends, he does not walk this way for fear of spilling his cargo, but because the co-ordinating part of his nervous system has become so dulled that he feels it necessary to bring into play these certain groups of voluntary muscles. That which gives us our position in space and enables us to maintain a natural equilibrium therein are certain nervous impressions which are carried to the brain from our joints, our skin, our eyes and ears. When a person is intoxicated, the sensitiveness of this fine, delicate system is impaired so that these nervous impulses are not carried to the central station or if so carried are not interpreted as they should be.

We have the other type of inebriate who carries himself with head and chest well forward as if he were top heavy and so we might continue an examination of the various forms of staggering gait that ensue as a result of alcoholic intoxication, but suffice it to say that they are all due to the influence of the alcohol upon the co-ordinating apparatus. There is usually considerable mental disturbance, the face is flushed, the pupils are dilated but compressible and the respiration deep. There may be incoherence, but it is very rarely so deep that the individual cannot be roused to some extent and in reply to the question he mutters incoherently, the pupils are dilated and active. There may be vomiting. The fact that the breath and the vomitus emit the odor of alcohol is by no means sufficient evidence of intoxication, but should be taken only as a contributory fact in conjunction with the other symptoms which I have enumerated. I cannot emphasize this point too strongly.

We discussed opium poisoning four weeks ago. You will distinguish it from alcoholism by the fact that in the former the unconsciousness is deep, in the latter, not deep; in the former, you are unable to rouse the patient; in the latter you may; in the former, the pupils are small and move but slightly and sluggishly if at all, upon being exposed to strong light; in the latter they are large and usually active; in the former the breathing is labored, slow and irregular; in the latter it may be slow, seldom so much so as in the former, and usually regular. You will distinguish alcoholism from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy. If the fact that in the latter the unconsciousness is profound, in the former the patient may be roused; in the latter the pupils are larger, frequently unequal and do not move upon being exposed to strong light; in the former the pupils are large, equal and respond actively to strong light; in the latter the breathing is slow, deep and loudly snoring; in the former, slow but not so deep, and seldom snoring; in the latter, the pulse is big, hard to obliterate and slow; in the former, it may be big or little, easy to obliterate and rapid.

You will distinguish alcoholism from concussion of the brain, by the fact that in the latter, while it lasts, the unconsciousness is deep, there may be but little change in the breathing, it

Toll Uses in
Sales Campaigns

SUCH testimonials as the following from the J. E. SOPER COMPANY, wholesalers of grain and feed at 206 Chamber of Commerce, Boston, furnish unimpeachable testimony of the value of the telephone, especially the toll lines, in sales campaigns.

We quote a paragraph of a letter to the Company from this concern;

"We find that the telephone takes the place, in a large degree, of men on the road, and that our business is done in a much more satisfactory way by having a man sell our goods from the office, as he then knows everything a salesman should know concerning the quality, location and other features of the goods, whereas a man on the road does not always have his information and is frequently induced to guess it, which does not work at all."

We would not suggest this rule in every case. The advantages of face-to-face salesmanship and the magnetism of a personality, coupled with the importance of showing many lines of goods, are not to be depreciated. On standard lines, however, once the salesman's personality is established, the telephone is an efficient auxiliary, and especially helpful to the salesman in making advance appointment.

TRAVELING MEN interested in little stories of the advantages of the telephone as a business auxiliary, are invited to send for "Modern Methods of Money-Making." In Metropolitan Boston call the Contract Department Fort Hill 7600. Elsewhere call the Local Manager.

may be rapid and shallow, the pulse is apt to be small, rapid and feeble, and the pupils contracted. You will distinguish alcoholism from chloral hydrate (knockout drops) poisoning by the fact that in the latter the unconsciousness is deep, in the former the individual may be roused; in the latter the pupils are small and generally insensible to light; in the former they are large and active.

Uraemia is a poisoning which develops in the course of inflammation in the kidneys. On account of this inflammation, the kidneys are unable to secrete the urine in proper amounts. The waste products of the body are not carried off and a condition of uraemia results. In uraemia there are convulsions; in alcoholism, rarely. In uraemia the unconsciousness is deep. In alcoholism, seldom so deep but what the person may be roused. In uraemia the pulse is big, sometimes impossible to compress or completely shut off. In alcoholism it may be big, but is easy to compress, there is no difficulty in shutting it off.

Diabetes is a disease which sometimes you may be called upon to distinguish from alcoholism. Here again the unconsciousness is deep. The breathing is slow and sighing and occasionally gasping in character.

Again I wish to emphasize that you must not make the common mistake of supposing that every one who is unconscious, or partly so, who is unable to walk, or partly so, from whose breath an odor of alcohol comes, is the subject of alcoholic intoxication. Examine him carefully, look for the differentiating signs which I have mentioned, give the individual the benefit of the doubt, call a physician, to the end that you may have no member of the community injured.

TOWN MEETING

Draft Citizens Will Meet March 3
Warrant Containing 24 Articles Presented for the Meeting

The date for the annual town meeting of the citizens of Dracut has been set for Monday, March 3. The warrant which contains 24 articles has been posted and the most important articles are the following:

Article 7 asks that the sum of $35,000 be borrowed to defray town charges.

Article 8, calls for an appropriation of $3000 to continue the macadam work in Lakeview avenue.

The next article is of the usual order and asks that $1500 be appropriated the same to be paid to the water district for hydrant service.

Articles 10, 11, 12 each call for the maintenance of new street lights.

Article 13, to raise and appropriate $300 for repairs to the town office.

Article 15, to raise and appropriate $2000 for the continuance and completion of the macadam work in Pleasant street, between Hovey square and Harris street.

Article 17, to raise and appropriate $6000 for further repairs to Mammoth road.

Article 18, to raise and appropriate $6300 for necessary repairs to Bridge street as ordered by the county commissioners.

Article 19, to raise and appropriate $5000 for the establishment and maintenance of a park on the plot at the junction of Mammoth road and Lakeview avenue.

Article 20, to raise and appropriate $3000 for the share of paying the town's share of the assessment levied in building a sidewalk at the Hildreth cemetery in Hildreth street.

Articles 21, 22, 23, 24 relate to the acceptance of new streets and the abolishment of certain others. Also improvements of a minor nature to others for which a net appropriation of $100 is asked.

WILLIAM C. ROYER

Lowell Man Has Case in Court of Equity at Lawrence—Case Heard for Ten Days

LAWRENCE, Feb. 24.—In a court of equity proceeding before Master Deane E. Cronell Friday morning, evidence in the case of William C. Royer, now of Lowell, against Annie E. Bowser of this city was finished before the noon adjournment and the case was closed in the afternoon session after the lawyers of each side had summed up their cases in an hour's argument. Charles A. McDonough of Boston was the counsel for the defendant while Attorney J. S. Murphy of Lowell represented the plaintiff.

This case has been heard for 10 days and 24 witnesses have been examined, including some prominent men of the city. Mayor Seaton was present Friday and testified as he was the one who made out the deed.

John and James Royer had resided in this city for 10 years and last had resided at 220 Broadway. It was at one time occupied as a conductor between this city and Boston, but has been dead for the past 20 years. The widow before she died lived at 117 Oxford street. When she died the Broadway property was willed to the grandchild, Herbert L. Royer, and the Oxford street property went to Annie E. Bowser, who had lived with them for 35 years and had been considered as their child. It is said.

William Royer, the son, who got other property, was not satisfied and brought suit claiming that the deceased was not of sound mind when she willed the property.

Herbert L. Royer who got the Broadway property, is now a manager for the Victor Talking Machine Company of Boston.

RESERVES CALLED OUT

Boston Crap Shooters
Attacked Officer

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Using his youthful prisoner as a shield when he found that he had no revolver with which to ward off the attack of a mob of hoodlums, Patrolman Thomas Walsh of station 6, South Boston, yesterday succeeded in putting 15-year-old Patrick Rouse under arrest, after he had been struck several times with bricks and stones.

The efforts of the gang to take their comrade away from the officer grew so determined from the time he first arrested the boy for shooting craps, that the mob clung to the policeman's heels almost to the station house, and was only felled in its purpose by a sort of reserve.

As a result of the encounter Walsh was bruised in several places by the bricks and stones which were showered upon him. Another of the reserves who dashed out of the station house on Broadway to Walsh's rescue narrowly escaped being struck by a flying half-brick.

Walsh was assigned by Capt. Lee to watch out for crap shooters, and started out in plain clothes. He got within 15 feet of a game before he was noticed, and the gang scattered. After a chase of a block he collared a young Rouse and started him toward the station.

The crowd regained courage in narrow Silver street, and had grown to menacing proportions when Broadway was reached. The hoodlums grew bolder when they saw Walsh reach for his revolver, to find that he had left it in his uniform at the station.

Probation Officer Farrabee refused to release young Rouse when he heard of the circumstances. Other arrests are expected.

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Man Was Found Unconscious From Gas

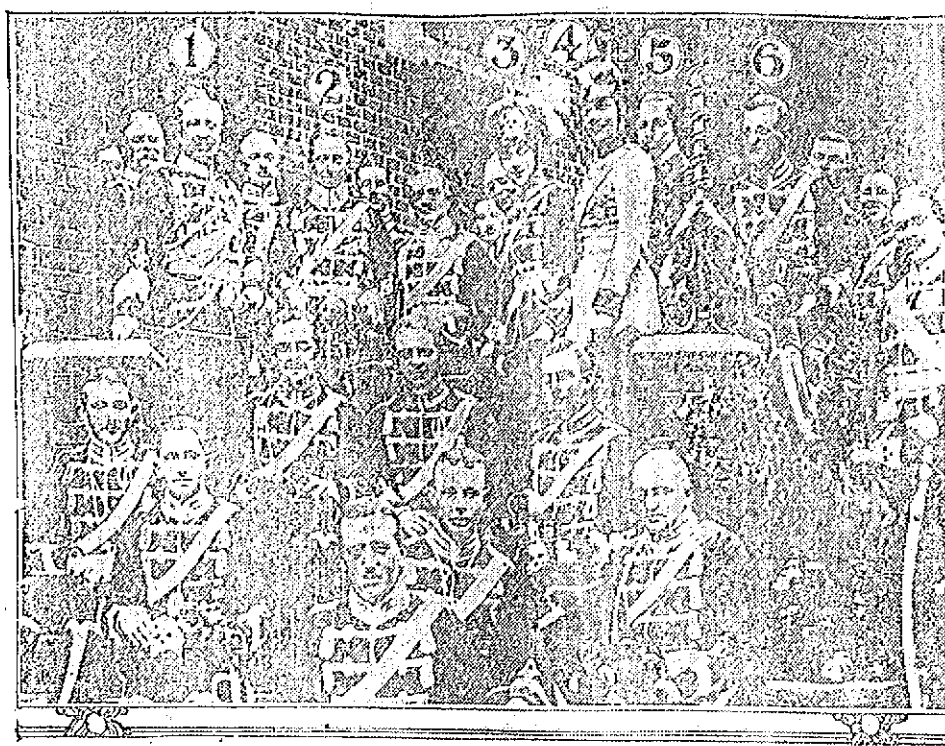

William Forrester was found unconscious Saturday morning at his home, 151 Meadowcroft street, as a result of having been overcome by gas, and when discovered by one of his sons, was very near death. He was removed at once to St. John's hospital, where his condition is considered dangerous.

When Mr. Forrester did not arise on Saturday morning, nothing was thought of it. For Walsh's mill, where he was employed, closed down over Washington's birthday and he was therefore not scheduled to go to work. Late in the morning the odor of gas was detected by one of the man's sons, and when he rushed to his father's room and broke open the door, he found him unconscious and lying partly dressed upon the bed. As far as can be learned, the escape of gas was accidental, a gas jet being slightly open.

ALL GERMANY RINGS WITH SHOUTS OF "HOCH DER KAISER!" JUNE WILL BE JUBILEE MONTH OF KAISER

1—The Emperor. 2—Crown Prince William. 3—Princess Victoria Louise. 4—Crown Princess Cecilie. 5—Prince Adalbert. 6—Prince August.

From now until June the world is going to hear from Germany a continuous chorus of "Hoch der Kaiser!" In fact, enthusiastic Germans began shouting it a few weeks ago, when William II, German emperor, celebrated his fifty-fourth birthday. But that was only a preliminary celebration, leading up to the main affair, which will come off in June.

June will be the jubilee month of the Kaiser, marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of his assumption of the crown. Just a quarter of a century ago "old Otto" as the Germans call him, Emperor William I, fell of years, descended to the grave to be followed three months later by his son, Emperor Frederick, father of the present emperor. On June 15, 1888, William II, then twenty-nine years old, ascended the throne. Two years later, in March 20, 1890, William set aside the old plot of the empire, Bismarck's trusted counselor of his father and grandfather, and took the helm of the ship of state himself.

In recent years the old title of William II—the "war lord"—has been relegated to the background. He is still lord of the world's mightiest army, but he is not a "war lord" who has made war. Germans like to call the world's attention to the fact that in the quarter of a century of the Kaiser's reign his empire has not engaged in wars other than the suppression of colonial revolts and that every other great power, save Austria-Hungary, has had at least one big struggle. They attribute Germany's keeping of the peace solely to the emperor and say he will be known in history not as "William the war lord," but as "William, keeper of the peace."

The coming war centennial ceremonies in Berlin will include solemn services in the cathedral, in which all the princes of the imperial house and the military and naval dignitaries of the kingdom of Prussia will take part. At the same time there will be a parade of troops there will be another commemorative ceremony at the monument to Frederick William III, in front of the palace. Similar festivities will be held in all the larger cities of Prussia.

The observances of the Kaiser's silver jubilee in June will include a program of varied entertainments, including operatic, theatrical, artistic, sporting and social events of the first magnitude. The dedication of the Olympic stadium of Berlin, where the Olympic games of 1916 will be held, will be one of the main features of the celebration. Perhaps as a preparatory for the coming jubilee, it was announced not long ago that Emperor William and the eldest of his six sons, Crown Prince Frederick William, had made up their differences. It is a family falling among the Hohenzollerns for the head of the house to disagree with his son and heir. But Wilhelm and Frederick William are now on good terms.

There is another and deeper cause of worry to the Kaiser, however, which it is hoped will be removed by the time the year's festivities are in full swing. That is the illness of the Kaiserin, Empress Augusta Victoria. It was reported recently that she would have to go to Bad Nauheim for a long stay. Last year she spent eight weeks at the health resort, and in August she was helped to the castle. She is well beloved by her German subjects, and they pray for her recovery. Her third son, Prince Adalbert, has also been ill.

Crown Prince William, married to Princess Cecilie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, has four sons. The second son of the Kaiser and Kaiserin, Prince Ernst, is married, but has no children. Prince Adalbert, the third son, is unmarried, as are the fifth and sixth sons, Oscar and Joachim. The fourth son, August, is married to his cousin, Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, and has a son born Dec. 26, 1912. The youngest child and only daughter of the imperial couple is Princess Victoria Louise, who is unmarried.

FRENCH CATHOLICS

Held Meeting Yesterday Afternoon to Discuss Need of a New Church in Pawtucketville Section

The French speaking residents of Pawtucketville held a meeting at the Social club of that district yesterday afternoon for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee appointed some time ago to take the census of the district and also to ascertain if it was the desire of the residents to have a French Catholic church in Pawtucketville.

The report was to the effect that the majority were in favor of the establishment of a church, providing the Oblate Fathers will be in charge. The figures from the census were as follows: Families, 489; working people, 1838; children, 531; total population, 2432. Already the sum of $2373 has been subscribed toward the new parish, providing the Oblate fathers are put in charge.

It was decided to send a communication to the Oblate fathers of St. Joseph's parish through a committee of five in which the residents of Pawtucketville request that the Oblate fathers submit to them what their plans are in respect to the establishment of a new French parish in that district. A definite answer is asked to be given within six months.

The committee which was in charge of taking the census was composed of the following residents of Pawtucketville: President, Oliver Poirier; Edouard Descheneaux, Vital Robert, Thos. Caron, Henri Alexander, Wilfrid Blouin, Joseph Lambert, Arthur St. Hilaire, Joseph Harvey, J. E. Rochette, Clement Dumais, Fred Theriault, Arthur Ferron, Horace Cinqmars, Joseph A. Frecette and Walter Alexander, ex-officio.

Among those who were called upon to speak during the meeting were the following: W. W. Thibodeau, J. E. Lambert, R. Descheneaux, J. S. Lape, Arthur St. Hilaire, Wilfrid Jean, M. Peltier, Oliver Poirier, Emory Goyette, Napoleon Martin, Clement Dumais, Joseph Harvey, Vital Robert, Andre Belanger, Ferdinand Dion, Frank Lechance, Alfred Leblanc and several others.

Miss Laura A. Rioux delivered the last of her series of talks on Thursday afternoon before the Middlesex Women's club and it proved fully as interesting and thoughtful as the preceding ones. In this lecture she took up and discussed some of the other works of the famous poet dwelling on the debate points of construction and showing in a pleasing way the motive of each.

W. C. T. U. HELD CELEBRATION

MRS. L. M. N. STEVENS
President National W. C. T. U.

MISS ANNA GORDON
Vice President National W. C. T. U.

40th Anniversary of the County Organization Observed—Mrs. Stevens a Speaker

A large body of enthusiastic temperance workers gathered at High Street church Saturday afternoon to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the county organization. It was a W. C. T. U. jubilee and national officers were among the speakers. The county work was started in Ayer, on the 2nd of Feb., 1873, by a small band of women from Worcester, and later in the year the organization of the work was perfected in the church where the jubilee was held Saturday.

The president of the local union, Mrs. Lily A. Clark, welcomed the guests and then followed many presentations of flowers to Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, and Miss Anna A. Gordon, president and vice president at large of the National W. C. T. U. Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, president of the state organization; Mrs. Abby F. Rolfe, president of the county organization; and later Mrs. Clark was herself surprised by her friends, receiving, as president of the local union, a beautiful bouquet.

In behalf of the church, Rev. A. C. Ferrin extended a welcome to the women present.

The Mayor Represented
Mayor O'Donnell, who was to have welcomed in behalf of the city, was prevented by illness from attending and he sent as his representative, City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennesey.

Special Guests Introduced
Then followed an introduction of special guests, with a few words spoken in response. Deacon Edward Kendall of Cambridge, who is 91 years old, and a staunch prohibitionist, all his life, ascended the platform and gave his optimistic message concerning the temperance cause.

A letter was read from Rev. George H. Allen, one of the strongest workers in Ayer, at the time of the formation of the union. He reminded the meeting that that was the second county union formed, the first having been in Worcester.

Rev. J. M. Craig was called upon, and said: "I am glad that we are coming more and more into the Bible standard. There was a time, even in

New England, when a woman was not allowed to go on the platform. I am exceedingly glad that this meeting is occurring in this city."

Response to Greetings

Mrs. Hamilton, the newly elected vice president-at-large for Middlesex county, was introduced by the president, and the latter responded to the greetings. "We are very happy," she said, "to have received these cordial welcomes. I am sure we need no assurances, because we know we are welcome. I have been asked to reminisce a little regarding the formation of this society. Forty years ago this morning it was rather harder than it is today. It was pouring rain, and it froze as it fell, so that it was very difficult getting about. I had been asked to meet at the 8 o'clock train in the morning, some women from Worcester who were coming over to Ayer to try to assist the people in temperance. I met six women, and conducted them to Page's hall. Five women listened to the six from Worcester. We were led by Mother Gifford. I cannot say we were cordial in our welcome. We listened, and that was all. Toward the close of the morning a session this question was asked: 'Are you women in Ayer not willing to try to do something to put away these open saloons?' We did not say we were not willing. So the morning session closed.

"During the two hours' intermission, a great many women came in, and some girls and boys from the high school came from curiosity. The word had gone around that some women were actually holding a meeting without any man or minister to pray or preach. One of the selectmen of the town was present, and one of the saloon keepers. When the boys and girls came in those women saw their opportunity. They made those girls and boys the text for a sermon to the Christian mothers. One after another the women arose, until eight had risen; then the selectman rose, and the women from Worcester burst into song, 'Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow.' We eight women and the six from Worcester gathered around the stove and made our plans. We adjourned for one week, and tried to interest other women. From that day there has never been a week, to my knowledge, when the Ayer union has not been in working condition, as it is today." She asked if any were present from Ayer, and quite a delegation responded. They were given the "white ribbon cheer."

"Early in the fall," continued Mrs. Rolfe, "the first public meeting of this society was held in this church. We were told in Ayer that if we continued our work we should ruin the town. We admitted that we were doing our best to shut up the saloons, and said we were willing to run the risk. In 1874, county presidents were appointed."

State Officers' Greetings

Then followed greetings from officers of the State W. C. T. U., the president, Katherine Lent Stevenson; Mrs. Harriet T. Todd, vice president; Mrs. Janet H. Knox, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary E. Cheney, assistant secretary; Mrs. Helen G. Rice, recording secretary; Miss Mary W. P. Anderson, secretary of young people's work.

A short history of the Middlesex county W. C. T. U. work for 40 years was given by Mrs. Augusta R. Brigham of Falden, the secretary. She said that the Middlesex county organization was the foundation on which was built the state W. C. T. U. Mrs. Livermore, Miss Anna Gordon, Mrs. Stevens, Katherine Lent Stevenson and many other workers were from Middlesex county.

The assistant secretary, Dr. N. Louise Hunt of West Newton, read messages from the presidents of the following county organizations: Worcester, North, Plymouth, Hampshire, Bristol, Barnstable, Franklin, Dukes, Worcester, South Norfolk.

Other Speakers Heard

There were also words of encouragement from Miss Foster, national superintendent of press work; Miss Seely, national superintendent of flower mission work; Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon, national organizer; and letters of congratulation from others.

Mrs. Stoddard of Boston, superintendent of institutes, spoke briefly of her work, as did Mrs. Clara A. Webber of Leominster, superintendent of work for the lumbermen; Mrs. B. P. 12 Rounds, of Bristol county, state superintendent of press work; Mrs. Frisbie of Maine, national superintendent of medal contest work.

Hon. John B. Lewis of Boston, who brought greetings in behalf of other temperance organizations, was given the white ribbon cheer.

Noontide devotions were led by Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Todd, and before the intermission, Mrs. Hamilton, vice president for Middlesex county, gave to the county president, Mrs. Rolfe, a bouquet of 40 gold pink carnations, and a gift of gold.

Luncheon was served by the ladies of the church, in the lower rooms.

The Afternoon Session

The afternoon session was opened at 1:45 o'clock, Mrs. Helen G. Rice conducting devotional exercises.

Mrs. Luce, state superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, was presented, and spoke a few words for a new manual for teachers, and a set of charts.

Mrs. Sanderson, representing the juvenile work of the Good Templars organization, said that the I. O. G. T. was the first organization that gave equal suffrage to women, over 60 years ago.

Rev. S. A. Jackson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, extended congratulations and spoke words of commendation.

Katherine Lent Stevenson, the state president, spoke briefly. "What," she asked, "if there had never been organized temperance work in this country? It is absolutely unthinkable, and it is one of you, whether you march in our ranks or not, ought to thank God for the temperance work of the last 40 years." She urged that the Middlesex county organization, in this jubilee year, ought to move up into the 2500 membership line.

A letter was read from Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, who was prevented by illness from being present.

Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon, a former acting president, referred in a brief address, to the position of the temperance workers, the legislative situation, "Some day," she said, "we women will sit down in the seats, and men will be up there under the codfish."

The National President

The president of the National W. C. T. U., Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, who was the chief speaker, said in part: "This anniversary is a very meaningful occasion, for it signifies much for a society, especially a reform society, to steadily go its way for two score years. I consider it a great honor and privilege to be permitted to participate in this jubilee, the significance of which has been ably and interestingly portrayed by Massachusetts white ribboners.

I presume there have been held in our nation alone during the past year at least 750 thousand W. C. T. U. meetings, and all of them to a more or less extent have been jubilee meetings, for all through this year and other late years the temperance cause has been making progress. Considering the mighty magnitude of the movement we have reason to rejoice and not to be discouraged in any degree.

Speaking of the temperance victories of the last two years, Mrs. Stevens referred to the prohibition victories in Maine, West Virginia and other places. "The most remarkably significant victory of this year," said the speaker, "is the passage of the Kanyon-Webb bill, virtually the same measure as the Hepburn-Dolliver bill, the Littlefield bill or McCumber-Bacon-Sanders bill, all familiar bills to our prohibition workers."

A man well qualified to judge said he considered that the National W. C. T. U. meeting held in the Belasco theatre, Washington, on Dec. 15, 1912, the most influential temperance meeting ever held in Washington. The speakers were all women, mostly W. C. T. U. presidents of prohibition states, and all of us plonder for prohibition from the invasion of out-of-state liquor sellers. The next day and the next, we listened to great speeches by three senators in the senate, all on behalf of this measure. You all know, on Feb. 8 the house of representatives passed the bill by a vote of 222 to 64, and on Feb. 10 the senate passed the bill by a vote of 61 to 23. The title of the bill is "a bill divesting intoxicating liquors of their interstate character in certain cases."

When this bill becomes the "law of the land," and we trust nothing will prevent it,—the way will then be clear to take up actively the joint resolution for an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which was presented by Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson on Feb. 4, 1911. We must work more and more for state-wide prohibition and for laws to secure its enforcement and all the while we must keep headed toward Washington with our motto, National Constitutional Prohibition.

Among temperance victories of the year I may well mention the woman suffrage victories, for there is no doubt but that woman suffrage is a help to the temperance cause. "One great proof of this is the fact that the liquor trade is always opposed to 'woman suffrage as you who read their journals and who know of their work in suffrage campaigns well know. The claim made by some anti-suffragists that woman suffrage is a hindrance to prohibition is absurd and untrue. Only last October in conversation with Judge Ben Lindsay in his home city of Denver, he said to us that he surely would have been defeated four years ago, the most critical time in his career as judge of the juvenile court, had it not been for the votes of the women."

To be sure no suffrage state has prohibition but we must take into account the preponderance of men voting prohibition rains are made in every state where women have the ballot. It is true not only in the states where women have voted a long time but in the new suffrage states. I quote from a recent letter received from Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, well known to white ribboners. She writes from Grant's Pass, Oregon: "So far as I have heard every town in Oregon which has voted since the women were given the ballot, has gone dry. It was quite noticeable in this town. At the last election when men alone voted the men voted the town and county wet by a good majority. December 2nd, the men and women voted it dry by a vote of two to one."

Vice President-at-Large

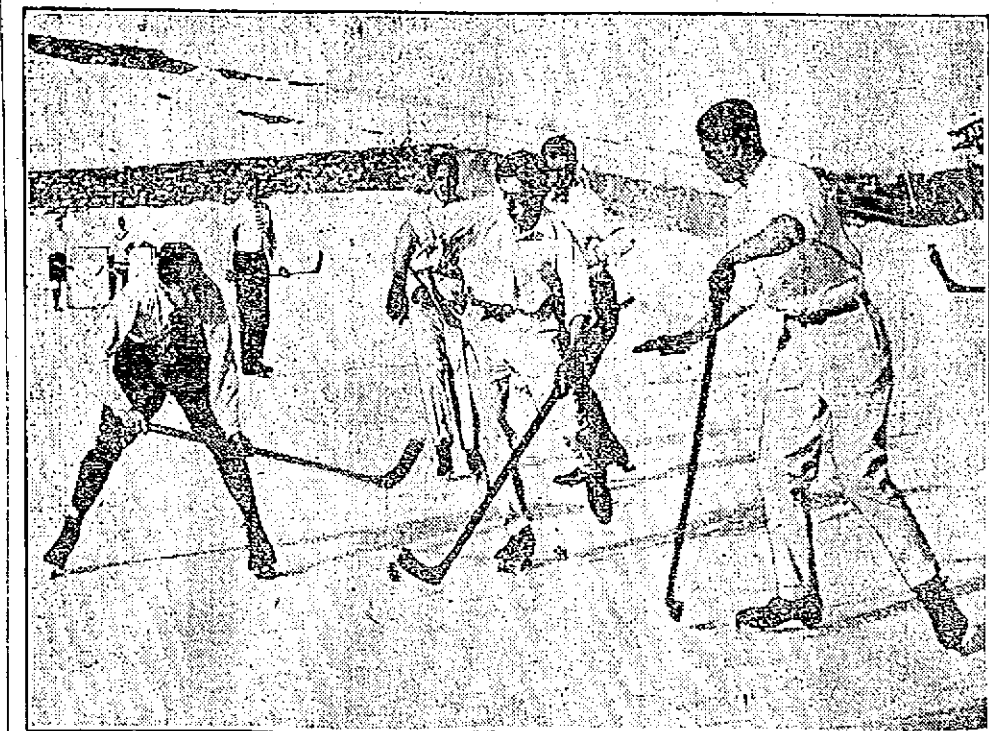

Miss Anna A. Gordon, vice president-at-large of the national W. C. T. U. and who was the friend and companion of Miss Francis E. Willard, paid a glowing tribute to Miss Willard, to Mrs. Stevens, the national president of today, to Mrs. Stevenson and to local, county and state workers in the W. C. T. U.

The meeting was closed after a vote of thanks to the hostesses and to all who had assisted, and the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the white ribbon benediction.

Inaugural Parade

Although no Lowell companies are included in the quota of the Massachusetts militia which will attend the president's inaugural in Washington next month, Gardner Pearson of this city will act as chief of staff to Governor Foss. Mr. Pearson as adjutant general, will hold the rank of brigadier general on this occasion. Fifty-two companies of the Bay State citizen soldiers will be in line at this event with representatives from thirty-two cities and towns.

ROYALTY ABROAD GETS THE FEVER AND MAY FORM A HOCKEY LEAGUE NEXT SEASON

Ice hockey seems to have taken a firm hold on royalty abroad. During the recent winter sport carnival at St. Moritz, Switzerland, a number of members of the different royal families of Europe could be seen almost daily playing the strenuous game. According to reports, a league may be formed next year among the members of nobility who visit the resort during the winter months.

SEVERAL ASSAULT CASES

Tried in Police Court This Morning

DRUNKS FROM SATURDAY AND SUNDAY WERE NUMEROUS

Large Docket in Court This Morning

Made the Session a Long and Tiresome One—Many Spectators Present

Anatole Barrett was arraigned in police court today charged with assaulting his wife Anna, on February 8. Mrs. Barrett on the stand testified that on the day in question the man, after drinking, had become very angry and had thrown garbage and rub down upon her person. The woman, it seems, live in adjoining tenements in First street. The plaintiff said that for a long time Mrs. Verdon had been bothering her with unwelcome contributions of "swill," etc., to her yard.

Mrs. Verdon testified in her own defense and said that she merely threw a rock back upon the other woman's piazza, but that it did not strike her. Loretta Verdon, the defendant's little girl, was a witness and corroborated her mother's statements. The plaintiff, however, showed marks which she alleged were caused by the stone, and in addition she exhibited the stone in court.

Mrs. Verdon was found guilty and fined $5.

Another Assault Case

Antonio Joesputka entered pleas of guilty both to drunkenness and to assaulting Antonio Novak. The latter was a witness and described the affair. His brother, he said, had a celebration at his home which included a keg of beer. A quarrel took place and the defendant struck him several times with a piece of iron and with his fist. Plaintiff said he did not strike the other nor provoke him in any way. It was with difficulty that Don Donahue finally succeeded, per interpreter, in persuading the witness to get down to the story of the actual battle. At the conclusion the man was fined $15 for the assault and the drunk charge was filed.

And Yet One More

There was another assault case in this morning's session and the principals were John Karsak, defendant, and Joseph Balkis, plaintiff.

The alleged affair took place on Jan. 11 in East Merrimack street, said the plaintiff on the stand. Karsak, he said, struck him several times, cutting his face. He showed stains on his coat sleeve which he stated were caused by the blood which issued from the wounds. Karsak was fined $29 at the conclusion of the testimony.

Fined $75 Each

Louis Ducharme and Helen Morin were arraigned on a complaint charging them with a statutory offence, to which they pleaded guilty. They were ordered to pay fines of $75 each.

Civil Satisfaction Given

The case of Ernest Scurry, who some time ago was arraigned on a charge of two counts of larceny aggregating a sum of approximately $500 from the Local Branch of the Plasterers' International union of America, was brought up again in police court today. It was stated that the money had been restored and the complaint was filed.

Keeping Disorderly House

Randall T. Wyman was accused of conducting a disorderly house. His case was continued and he was held in $300 for next Monday's session.

Continued Azala

Attorney Dan Donahue appeared for William Brandon, against whom there was a charge of vagrancy. An effort is being made to locate friends or relatives of the man in Connecticut, where he claims his home is. He was held until Saturday in $200.

Edna Ferber's latest story "Knee Deep in Knickers," is in The American Magazine for March.

Emma McChesney, the lady drummer, finds that scant skirts spoil the petticoat business. Then she has a wonderful idea atives of the man in Connecticut, where he claims his home is. He was held until Saturday in $200.

Drunken Offenders

David Lyons paid $5 for a Sunday drunk. Joseph McEvoy also forfeited $5. Patrick McLuskey was in for his third time and he was sent to the state farm.

John McFee was fined $6. It was the third time for Patrick McCarthy, and Officer O'Rourke, who made the arrest, said that the man's wife had complained on him. He got a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

Patrick Curtin paid $6 for a second offense. James Dacey pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, but the officers testified otherwise and Probation Officer Slatery surrendered him from his care. He was sent to jail for three months. He appealed and later withdrew it.

John O'Donnell was committed to the state farm. John Sydney was in for a third offense. He was on probation for a similar misdemeanor. This time he was sent to the state farm.

William Lamour had a first offense of drunkenness registered against him. His uncle was in court and testified that the defendant had demanded entrance to his house and on being refused started to "mess things up," smashing in a door by way of friendly greeting. His case was continued to tomorrow morning.

James T. Flannery came in to withdraw an appeal made a few days ago, and sentence was affirmed. Peter Gillick pleaded guilty to drunkenness and his case was continued to Saturday.

Andrew F. Carr paid $6 for a drunk. D. M. Ward was in for the third time in a year, and he was delegated to the state farm.

Timothy Desmond for a second offense paid $6. Louis Blatcher received the same sentence. For Peter Bellemore it was a third visit and he will reside in jail for four months.

George Tromblay's wife testified that her husband had struck her and threatened her on Friday night when he was drunk, and moreover that she is afraid of him when he is intoxicated. At other times, she said, he is a good man and supports his family. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a chance on probation with a three months' sentence over his head.

Octave Duchant paid $5 for a Sunday celebration. Alphonse W. Martell was likewise assessed. Mary Boren was a third contributor to the same cause.

It was a great disappointment to the members of the Lowell Social and Athletic club not to be able to watch Gilbert Gallant and Johnny Doherty in their scheduled 12 rounds on Friday night.

Germany is already devoting great attention toward the next Olympic contests. The government has appropriated a large sum of money for the expenses of the meeting in 1916 which will be held in Berlin and the various schools have been supplied with the best athletic instructors which are possible to procure. The climax was reached, however, when the members of the royal family joined the Berlin A. C. in order to take part themselves in the athletic events. The time came and shortly when America will not have the reputation of the great producer of athletes if the foreigners keep plugging the game!

At the annual open game of the San Francisco Olympic club held Saturday night, Harry Rose of California again broke a record. Rose made a put of 45 feet, 5 1/2 inches with the 15 lb. shot. The former record stood at 44 feet 1/2 inches was also held by the California giant. Pat Dannehy also broke his own record with the 35-lb. weight, hurling the huge ball 16 feet, 7 inches, an inch beyond his former mark.

LEAGUE GAMES ROLLED

Several Good Matches on Local Alleys

The Manchester Y. M. C. A. league bowling team was defeated Saturday by the Lamsons in a very close match. The Lamsons, who are led by Scribner, the Manchester rollers were high with strings of 258.

DIAMOND NOTES
A championship team is a fine thing in the fall, but when one tries to sign up in the spring they will surely top his angora. Inquire of McAleer of the Boston Red Sox.

Terry Turner, the veteran Nap, will round out a decade of service as a Cleveland player next season. Right now Terry looks to be in better physical condition than at any time during the last five years.

Young catchers in the American league to fill the place of Sullivan, Street, Stephens and Schmidt, are Sweeney, Schaik, Stange and Schang.

President McAleer of the Red Sox has a hook well baited for Bobby Wallace. He wants to get a man who can take Wagner's place when the latter gets injured.

Casey Hageman, after having made a hold-out fight for one full season, has decided that he will return to the Boston club and has signed a contract to play with the Grizzlies next season. Hageman came to Boston lusted as a world-beater and cost the Boston Americans $5000. He didn't quite make good with the Red Sox.

Tabor of Brown is the most erratic of the top-notch millers in the game today. Powers of the I. A. A. defeated him Saturday night at the games in Providence with only a six yard lead over the Brown athlete. Powers' time for the distance was 4:21 3/4. Oscar McDonald, who was scheduled to race but did not appear, would have had difficulty in pulling out this event.

The stocky German fighter with the blonde complexion now knows what his sobriquet means. Although the Mexican would undoubtedly have beaten the New York lightweight it was gratifying from the standpoint of Rivera backers, when Brown connected to duck into a vicious swing.

O'Mahoney, of Lawrence High, who finished second in the hurdle event, nevertheless displayed more knowledge of timber-topping than any man in the race. Capt. Bailey of Lowell beat him by a speedier finish. If Bailey used the three strides instead of four Lowell could win points next week at the B. A. A. Intercollegiate. Bailey proved a much faster man on an outdoor track than indoors, especially on the local track. This sprinter possesses a powerful stride and banked corners always break up the knee action in a well developed stride. The Lowell captain should be able to step out a creditable furlong as well as a fast century.

The chances are that the New England league will have an entirely new staff of umpires next season.

Pitcher Nap Rucker of the Brooklyn Superbas says that in his opinion Jim Sheppard of the Cubs has the greatest batting eye in the National league.

It is said that the combined salaries of the three regular outfielders of the Boston champions is less than the salary said to have been demanded by Ty Cobb from Detroit.

President Locke of the Philadelphia Nationals has signed Hugo T. Wedell, a former college player and at present a member of the faculty in the University of Kansas.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY
Plans Progressing for the Great Parade on the 20th Should Prove to be One of Largest Ever Seen Here

The list of the Irish Catholic Organizations which have expressed an intention of taking part in the parade on March 29, in response to invitations from the general committee in charge of the event, is rapidly growing. The members of the committee who are going about to the surrounding cities and towns addressing the members of the societies in regard to participating in the procession have done a great deal to assure a large and magnificent turnout of the organizations on the day assigned.

The Catholic club of North Chelmsford, the Holy Name society of St. Andrew's church, Billerica, and St. Mary's Cade of Lawrence have received invitations to be represented in the parade and all are expected to be present in large numbers in the ranks. Other societies of Lawrence, Haverhill, Nashua and the surrounding towns have been visited by the general committee and have accepted invitations to march. The parade should prove to be about the best seen in Lowell.

Tonight there will be a meeting of the general committee at which important matters will be discussed and acted upon. The matter of decorating the city on this day, which has already been talked over by these in charge, will come up again at the session to night and in all probability the societies will request the business men to cooperate with them in this work. This will be undertaken by a sub committee which in all probability will be chosen this evening.

As yet, the number of divisions which the parade will include has not been decided upon by Chief Marshal McManion. It is settled, however, that there will be an A. O. H. division and a Holy Name division. The officers must await the completion of the list before deciding upon this matter. There will also be a large out of town delegation.

Decorating for the Parade
Charles F. Young, the decorator, wishes to announce to the public that he is prepared to contract for a large amount of decorating for the St. Patrick's day celebration which is to be observed on March 29th and he requests those who intend to decorate on that day to send in their order early and be among the first to decorate.

Don't put it off until the last few days. Having the largest stock of decorations in New England he is able to do the work at reasonable prices and he stands behind every job. He employs no agents. Don't be deceived by irresponsible parties. Telephone 1348. Mr. Young will be pleased to call and talk the matter over with you.

Card of Thanks
We, the undersigned, wish to return our sincere thanks to our many friends and acquaintances, who by sympathetic kindness and floral offerings helped to lighten the burden of sorrow, in the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary Riley. LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM DEFEATED LAWRENCE HIGH BY SCORE OF 60 TO 16—LARGE CROWD WITNESSED EVENTS

THE LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM

The largest crowd that has seen a high school track meet in years turned out Saturday night to watch the local boys hand a bad beating to the team from Lawrence High. There was no doubt as to the outcome of the meet from the start the only event in which Lawrence excelled Lowell being the high jump. This final score was Lowell 60, Lawrence 16.

When the two semi-finals in the 30 yard dash were decided Lowell found herself with only one man in the finals as against three from Lawrence. That one man, however, lived through his heat and sent for a definite purpose as he fully demonstrated by winning the final heat in the fast time of 34.5 seconds. The winner, Charlie Carter, was up against the real thing in the sprint line, too, when he faced the starter with Westland and O'Mahoney. Westland was too eager and broke when halfway down the stretch.

Both the distance events, the 1000 yards and the mile, were easily picked for the Lowell distance specialist, Vernon Bowers. This boy cleaned up his rivals without any difficulty and handled ten points for his team, a feat that is not common particularly among the distance runners.

Captain Bailey was also right there strong as usual and contributed ten more points, winning both the 300 yard dash as well as the hurdle event. He got a poor start in the initial contest or perhaps the scoring would be different in that event. Bailey showed great form in all the stretches.

Edie Cawley found the shotput very easy and was not obliged to extend himself in order to win. His put of 45 feet and 7 inches, however, was the best mark of the season. Cawley also gave the crowd a good laugh by his antics in the high jump. When the Lowell strong man found that he could not jump the last height he deliberately went out and dove head first over the bar. The spectators showed their appreciation of the feat in no uncertain way. Every final heat was from a fair start.

Spaulding was an easy winner in the 600 yard run from the flash of the gun. This boy was never headed for a minute and finished in good form in the fast time of 1:22. Spaulding is running better with each contest.

The relay race was a runaway affair, the Lowell sprinters having the better of the argument from the time that Carter hit the first bank until Bailey brushed across the tape. The Lawrence men could not take the bait to begin with and it would not have done them much good if they had been able to negotiate the Lowell corners for, man for man, the local relay team was too fast an aggregation for them.

John O'Reilly was the starter and the Dorchester High coach allowed but few getaways. Every final heat was from a fair start.

AUTO PLUNGED INTO MYSTIC RIVER

Driver Was Seized With Attack of Heart Trouble and Lost Control of Machine

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Seized with an attack of heart trouble, Temple F. Craig, 55 years old, of 37 Lawrence street, Woburn, lost control of a touring car he was driving at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon just after he had passed over the Wellington bridge into Somerville and the car, describing a wide circle, passed over a sidewalk, through shrubbery and plunged down a slight incline into the Mystic river.

Mr. Craig was alone in the front seat, but in the rear seat were Mrs. Craig and Miss Nellie M. Wilkins, 25 years old, who makes her home with the Craigs.

As the car plunged into the water, the engine stopped and the automobile came to a standstill in the mud of the river bottom a few feet from the shore, but not soon enough to prevent the body of the car from being practically submerged.

Lying prone on the front seat and helpless as he was from illness, Mr. Craig's body was nearly covered with water and he was in imminent danger of drowning.

The plunge of the auto with its three occupants down the river bank into the river was seen by Andrew Leahy, son of Thomas Leahy, drawlender at Wellington bridge, who had just stepped out of the rear door of the house.

Young Leahy heard the screams of women and, looking in their direction, he saw the auto as it broke through the shrubbery, raced down the bank and plunged into the water.

Leahy ran to the scene of the accident and attracted the attention of George W. Brennan of Melrose Highlands, who was driving a car on the boulevard, as he ran down the river bank.

He found Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins frightened and somewhat hysterical. They were standing on the rear seat of the touring car, and as Leahy waded into the water they leaped out and waded ashore.

Mr. Brennan joined Leahy and they lifted Mr. Craig from the front seat and carried him ashore.

A call was sent to the Somerville police station by a member of the Metropolitan park police for the ambulance, and Mr. and Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins were carried to the Somerville hospital. The two women suffered only from fright, and the plunge into the water. They remained at the hospital until 6 o'clock. Mr. Craig had at that hour recovered from the attack of heart trouble, but it was deemed advisable to have him remain at the hospital last night.

The party of three left the Craig home after lunch yesterday to try out the car which Mr. Craig had but recently bought.

At the moment Mr. Craig's hands fell from the wheel, the car was on the right side of the boulevard, but as Mr. Craig leaped over he gave the steering wheel a slight turn and the car began to describe a wide circle, it bore quickly but steadily to the left, and passing over a loam space between the sidewalk and the roadway, crossed the sidewalk, mounted a slight embankment and plowed through shrubbery, covering 100 feet before it reached the river's edge.

Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins said last evening that they were so frightened that they could not remember distinctly just what happened after the car passed out of Mr. Craig's control.

Mr. Craig has had long experience with automobiles, and is the owner of several. He is the manager of a factory in Woburn which supplies one of the large sporting goods houses in Boston with some of its specialties.

The automobile was not removed from the river until late yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred just after the tide began to ebb and it was not until it was near low tide that the machine was dragged from the mud but slightly damaged.

Unconscious by Gas Fumes
BOSTON, Feb. 24.—James Gulliver, 65, and his wife, Mary, 63, of 361 Dorchester street, South Boston, were found unconscious in bed at 7 o'clock last night in the front room of their home as a result of gas escaping from a leaky tube in the room.

They were given emergency treatment by Patrolman Mortality of Division 12 and several young men, which resulted in partial recovery, and then they were hurried to the city hospital in the police ambulance. There they were placed on the dangerous list.

WHY DIDN'T SOMEONE
THINK OF IT BEFORE?

Instant Postum

A food-drink with the rich, mild flavor of Oriental Java, but free from caffeine or any other harmful ingredient.

No boiling required—made in the cup.

Nowadays, when buying good things for the table, the housewife thinks of palatability and health as well as price.

Strike it either way in the test of Instant Postum and you'll find it responds.

TRY A TIN

A 90 to 100-cup tin of Instant Postum costs 50c at grocers—about 1-2c per cup.

(Smaller tin at 30c makes 45 to 50 cups).

Regular Postum, Lge. Pkg. (must be boiled 15 minutes) 25c.

Pleasant taste, saves worry, work and waste and conserves health.

"THERE'S A REASON"

TO BE SUFFRAGAN BISHOP

Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere
Will be Elected

It is rumored that when the Episcopal diocesan convention meets on April 2, the Very Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, will be elected suffragan bishop of Massachusetts to assist Bishop Lawrence in his arduous duties.

Bishop Lawrence has been advised by his doctors that he should be assisted in his duties, and he has intimated that the election of suffragan bishop would be acceptable.

Mr. Rousmaniere when asked about the rumor said: "I have not heard of it. I should suppose that it was extremely unlikely." Bishop Lawrence refused to discuss the matter.

Another possible candidate mentioned for the position is the Rev. William H. van Allen, rector of the Church of the Advent.

AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Rev. Edward Cummings of Boston the Preacher

Rev. Edward Cummings of Boston, successor to the late Rev. Everett Hale, spoke at the Unitarian church last evening. He said in part:

About 20 years ago many persons were studying and believing in "The Law of Natural Selection," and this they declared was the basis of evolution. In this the survival of the fittest theory was shown, the weaklings were all to be killed off and the strongest were to survive. And religion was to be merely the handmaid to this sort of evolution.

"Of late there has been talk of having people in various states write to their representatives and senators with suggestions about building a memorial to Abraham Lincoln about constructing a highway through the battlefield of Gettysburg, or of erecting a marble memorial in Washington. My plan would be the construction of educational highways through the mountains of Kentucky, clear up through the White mountains. But my plan isn't amount to much. Yet what many persons would have citizens do about the construction of a memorial to the martyred president is the last thing under God's heaven Lincoln would have asked us to do."

About 100 years ago, said the speaker, the most unreligious, unimperial philosophy for the adjustment of labor troubles was fostered on the world. Intelligent people thought they had arrived at the panacea for all such things. It was the law of unrestricted competition.

In substitution for the golden rule there has been taught a rule which goes "Do unto others what you would do and do it quickly, so that the other man shan't do it to you." And this has been taught in our schools and in our colleges, said the speaker.

The great leaders of thought are just beginning to learn that in the industries of the land efficiency and success are due to the application of the law of the family, the devotion of the strong to the weak.

The kingdom of God must be allowed to enter the business house, if there is to be a measure of success in that business house. Only recently a big steel corporation announced that it had devoted $5,000,000 to welfare work.

"Your city will be a political family," he said, "when the law of the family obtains, and your city fathers will be truly city fathers. The kingdom of your own individual life depends upon your setting a part of this great family and you cannot be of value in any other way; you can't keep strong in any other way. Your town house should be the symbol of the city family. You have the new fangled term of city hall, which it isn't. Town house is much better."

Farmer's Institute
A Farmers' Institute will be held in the Westford town hall on Wednesday under the auspices of the Middlesex North Agricultural society. Dinner will be served by Westford Grange. The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock, the speaker to be Sumner H. Reed, a successful farmer from West Brookfield, who will speak on the "Up-to-date Farmer."

In the afternoon the subject will be "Farmer's Clubs," and "The Value of the Silo." Questions may be asked by the audience pertaining to these subjects and will be answered by the speaker. Each year a farmers' institute is held in Westford in the winter, and the farmers from this and surrounding towns attend and receive a great deal of benefit from the practical talks of the speakers.

TOBACCO GOES MARCH 1

This Will Be Moving Day For Man Who Will Be Secretary in President Wilson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Joseph P. Tumulty, who is to be secretary to President Wilson, will move to Washington about March 1. He will then return to Trenton to assist Gov. Wilson in cleaning up official matters.

Mr. Tumulty has a family of six children, so he has engaged a large house in the Mt. Pleasant section of the city. He is planning in his presidential connection to conduct the office on practically the same lines as in his governor's secretaryship, only, of course, on a larger scale.

Mr. Tumulty is 54, a younger man compared with some of his predecessors.

He is known as a "walking encyclopedia" on matters relating to congress and politics in general. He likewise has the personality required for successful work as private secretary to the president of the United States.

He will receive $5,000 and the use of an automobile in payment for his services.

SUICIDE WORKED HERE

"Count" Von Detling Was Wool Comber

"Count" Francis Von Detling, who committed suicide in a Chicago park by shooting, was formerly employed as a wool comber in the Abbot mill in Graniteville, Westford. His son, about 4 years old, is cared for in the home of Jacob Pracknik, not far from the mill.

Miss Mary Malinowski, to whom the deceased wrote a long poem, is also employed in the Abbot mill as an operative. She understands the English language very well, but cannot converse in it much. Her home is in the house of Jacob Pracknik.

Through an interpreter, she said it was four years since Frank Detling, as she knew him, left Graniteville for the west. He was born in Poland in the province adjoining that of which she was a native. He was the son of a laboring people. Not being satisfied with conditions here he left for the western country. In letters to her, Miss Malinowski says, he frequently threatened to commit suicide. He wrote that he only stayed from ending his life by the act of having a son.

Miss Malinowski was greatly interested when told that the deceased wrote a long poem in honor of herself. She expressed a desire to read it.

Police residents of Graniteville village make the home of Mr. Pracknik their headquarters, and for their accommodation his box in the Graniteville postoffice is used for all letters received from their friends at a distance.

Other residents of Graniteville, who remember the "count" when he lived in the village, say when he first came to that village he was finely dressed and carried a cane. Later, they say, he did not give so much attention to his personal appearance.

Police residents of Graniteville say they know of no relatives of the deceased. He was about 27 years old.

TO CHANGE THE CITY CHARTER Bill Before Legislature Provides for Nine Aldermen—Hearing Next Friday Forenoon

That the present form of city charter is not satisfactory to all citizens of Lowell would appear from a bill now before the legislature. The bill, accompanied by the petition of John F. Donnelly and others for legislation to revise the charter of the city of Lowell and especially to provide for the election of a mayor, nine aldermen and five school committee men for one-year terms. The bill is slated for a hearing before the committee on cities, in Boston, Friday forenoon at 10.30 o'clock.

Speaking of the act to revise the charter of the city of Lowell, a representative from this city said: "There may be a few loopholes in the present charter, but I think they are few and far between. I think that our present form of government is an ideal one and I do not believe that the act to revise the charter will have the support of any of the representatives from this city. There is no necessity for a council of nine. Five men are sufficient to run the city's business. If we get the right men and it ought to be easier to get five suitable men for the position than to get nine men who are well qualified. I think there is no occasion for alarm over the introduction of this bill."

Nobody can deny that the business of the city has been conducted more openly and more systematically under the new than under the old charter or than it would be under the system proposed in this bill.

There will always be kickers but the committee on cities can readily see that the new charter has not been in operation long enough to judge properly of its merits. If the citizens devote their attention to the election of good, honest and capable men from year to year they will have done their duty in providing good government for our city.

Various things have been encountered but these have been overcome to a great extent by ordinance so that henceforth our city government under the present charter will go on more smoothly. Ward representation is not necessary. It serves only to provide extravagance because each ward insists upon having as much improvement as any other ward whether that be necessary or not. The interests of the whole people are of paramount importance and these include the interests of all the wards. The present charter is best for all, but it does not furnish places for all the candidates. That, in the opinion of many, is its main defect.

THE LATE PRES. MADERO

American Citizen

In Mexico City
England
Will Refuse to Recognize
New Government,
Until Confirmed by General Election

Universal consternation will hardly express the feeling that pervades the civilized world today as a result of the murder of Former President Madero and Former Vice President Suarez in Mexico City. The dictators who accomplished the overthrow of the Madero government disclaim responsibility for this heinous crime, saying it resulted from an attempt to rescue the prisoners. The murder of Gustavo Madero was deliberately ordered and barbarously carried out, and this latest atrocity whether ordered or not by the new regime will turn public opinion in this country against the new officials so that no further abuse of American interests will be tolerated. Moreover it is likely that the United States will follow the example of England and refuse to recognize the new government until it shall have been confirmed by a general election.

FORMER PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO KILLED IN STREETS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Former President Madero and former Vice President Suarez were killed in the streets of Mexico City in a battle between their guard and two groups of men who were seeking to overpower the guard and rescue them, according to an official telegram from R. Francisco de la Barra, minister for foreign relations received at the Mexican embassy early today. It was not made clear which side fired the fatal shots. Several were wounded in the attempt to rescue, the report stated.

"Both the bodies of Senors Madero and Suarez," Senor de la Barra assures the embassy, "will be buried with all the honors due to the high positions which they held."

The report continues that "there was a general desire for peace throughout Mexico" and that the government looked forward to the future with optimism.

OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION INTO DEATHS OF MADERO AND SUAREZ

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24.—An official investigation into the deaths of ex-President Francisco Madero and ex-Vice President Jose F. Ruiz Suarez on Sunday night is to be initiated at once. The general belief prevails here that the result will be the substantiation of all the essential features of the official version of the occurrences. The fact that the bodies of the statesmen were recovered in the rear of the penitentiary is explained by the statement that a second encounter occurred close to the building. It is said the automobiles ran down a side road and that Madero and Suarez jumped out and were running when they were caught between the fire of the rural guards escorting them and that of their assailants, thus accounting for wounds being inflicted on them from different directions.

Provisional President Huerta and the other officials here are earnest in their declarations that the government was acting in good faith and that the death of the prisoners was due solely to the results of unforeseen circumstances. With the passing of Francisco Madero the general opinion prevails that the tenaciousness of the situation has been removed. There is a marked tendency on the part of all classes of society to accept the new order of things as the best and from various parts of the country reports have been received of further adhesions to the new administration. The morning newspapers also herald the new era and prophesy immediate peace and the early resumption of prosperous conditions. General Huerta's government undoubtedly has now at least the upper hand in the country. A committee of followers of Emiliano Zapata arrived here last night to discuss with the government arrangements to bring about peace in the south.

Gen. Cheche Campos, one of the most prominent followers of Pascual Orozco, Jr., has sent word to Gen. Truety Aubert in Torreon that he desires peace.

Reports from the state of Oaxaca indicate that the disaffected Indians there have been placated.

Juan Sanchez Ascona, the private secretary of Francisco Madero, who had been under arrest since the upheaval in the capital, has been released and it is probable that a number of others connected with the late government also will be soon set at liberty.

American Killed
Bois Gorow, a naturalized American, was killed in an attack made by a force of rebels on a mine in the Ixtla district of the territory of Tepic Feb. 20. Ramon Gorzuela, a Spaniard also was killed. Two American employees and one British workman are missing. They are Alfred Bromby, a British engineer and David Senda and Charles Budd. The houses and mills of the mining company were sacked. The affair has been reported to the British foreign office.

Grummel had three previous convictions for felony as a convict.

NO REVELATIONS OF POLICE GRAFT Were Made by N. Y. Woman Sentenced Today—Sweeney's Case Postponed

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Police graft investigators were disappointed today when Rosal Heriz, a disorderly resort keeper, received a prison sentence without making any of the revelations they had expected. In sentencing the woman to serve one year Justice Collins said:

"The imposition of a fine would mean nothing to you for money would be wrested from the bodies of your unfortunate."

The woman's sentence had been postponed several times in the expectation that she would assist the district attorney's office.

Police Captain Sweeney, formerly an inspector, made known today his defense to an indictment for selling police protection. His attorney declared that Sweeney was not in command of the district where the alleged bribe was given at the time of the alleged offense. A patrolman and a police sergeant with Sweeney pleaded not guilty. Sweeney's case will be postponed.

THE LOWELL SCHOOL COMMITTEE Attend Hearing in Boston and Favor Bill Providing Tenure of Office for Teachers

A hearing on the bill accompanying the petition of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation to provide a tenure of office for certain teachers in the public schools was held before the committee on education at the state house this afternoon. It was stated in connection with the act that the word "teacher" means any teacher, principal, supervisor or superintendent employed by a school committee or board of trustees in a public school. Section two explains the tenure of office and reads as follows:

"The service of all teachers shall be during good behavior and efficiency, after the expiration of a period of employment of three consecutive years from the time of the first election by the school committee, and the length of time any teacher has taught in the town or city in which he is employed at the time this act shall take effect shall be counted in determining such period of employment."

About 150 Teachers Present
There were about 150 teachers present from all parts of the state as a majority of cities allowed a certain number of teachers to attend. There were no Lowell teachers present, however, but they were represented by the members of the school committee who spoke in favor of the proposition.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Ernest MacKenzie, president of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation and he was followed by John C. Farrington of the school committee of Lowell. Mr. Farrington said he was in favor of any legislation that would give to the teacher a greater feeling of security and add to his or her peace of mind. He said that under the present state of affairs the teacher is without protection. "I might get up at a meeting of the committee," said Mr. Farrington, "and move that a teacher be removed. If a majority of the committee voted in favor of the motion the teacher would be removed and he or she would have no redress." The other members of the Lowell school committee spoke in favor of the bill.

Speakers other than these included Frank M. Merriam of Newburyport and Miss Hathaway of North Adams. After having heard Mr. MacKenzie, the Lowell school board members, and Mr. Merriam and Miss Hathaway, the committee chairman said that the committee did not care to hear others unless they had something to offer. Others who were present and who expected to speak to the bill allowed that they did not have anything additional according to a statement made in authoritative quarters here today.

TROOPS ORDERED TO GALVESTON

WAR DEPT. ACTS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—More orders for moving troops to Galveston with the purpose of concentrating a full army division there in accordance with the policy of preparedness as outlined by President Taft in a public speech in New York last Saturday night were issued by the war department early today. Major General William H. Carter, the department and division commander at Chicago will be placed in supreme command.

In addition to the fourth brigade of the second division consisting of the 23rd, 25th and 28th infantry now in the middle west, orders were issued today for the preparation for entraining of the entire sixth brigade, comprising the 11th infantry, Col. Arthur Williams, at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, the 15th infantry, Col. Thomas F. Davis at Fort McKenzies, Wyoming, and Fort Bliss, Texas, the 22nd infantry, Col. Daniel A. Frederick at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The fourth field artillery, the second battalion of engineers and signal corps, Company D, comprising part of the sixth brigade have been ordered to Galveston.

It will not be possible to accommodate all the second division troops on the Fort Crockett reservation and a number must be encamped at Texas

City, seven miles distant, and at Houston.

None of the brigades are up to par at present. The entire second division as it exists today will aggregate less than 500 fighting men, with perhaps a thousand auxiliaries. Theoretically this division should be 15,000 strong.

LIFE SENTENCE
Prisoner Who Underwent a Surgical Operation on His Skull Arrested and Convicted Again

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Edward Grimmel, the forger who obtained his pardon and release from Dannemora prison two years ago by submitting to a surgical operation on his skull which alienists believed would cure him of criminal tendencies and who on Feb. 10th was convicted of burglary in the third degree was today sentenced to Auburn prison for life. Grimmel had three previous convictions for felony against him.

AUTO STUCK IN MUD
Large Touring Car Met
With Mishap
Municipal Council Behind
in its Work

A chauffeur of a large touring car attempted to travel over the snow highway which has been constructed between this city and the Methuen line yesterday, but his futile attempt may cost him a few dollars, for the machine is still on the road stuck in the mud, and it is hard telling when it will be taken out.

This happened yesterday morning. Apparently the auto was being driven over the tracks of the Bay State Street Railway Co., and when an approaching car was seen the machine was steered on the side of the road into a large hole filled with water and mud. There it got stuck and the chauffeur, getting tired of working around it, left it there and boarded a car for Lowell. This morning a thick coating of ice had formed around the automobile which was fast in the mud.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST GOV. SUAREZ

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Surprising charges that Col. Joseph Scott, superintendent of state prisons and his "immediate underlings" among whom was included Dr. John W. Russell, superintendent of the Mattawana state hospital for the criminal insane, were engaged in a conspiracy to involve Governor Suarez "so that they might be retained in office and continue their profitable business of brokerage pardons" were made by Gov. Suarez's committee of inquiry today by William F. Clark, former secretary of the committee. Clark, before testifying, asked to be temporarily relieved from the secretaryship of the committee pending the investigation of the charges that he had used without authority the governor's name in attempting to influence Dr. Russell and Dr. James V. May, chairman of the state hospital commission, to bring about the release of Harry K. Thaw. His request was granted.

RIVAL DEMONSTRATIONS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Saturday evening following the formal entry into Washington of General Russell Jones and his army of hikers from New York rival demonstrations will be made by the suffragists, anti-suffragists and the charges that he had used without authority the governor's name in attempting to influence Dr. Russell and Dr. James V. May, chairman of the state hospital commission, to bring about the release of Harry K. Thaw. His request was granted.MECHANICS

TO THE POLICE OFFICERS

Dr. Tighe Gives Valuable
Pointers

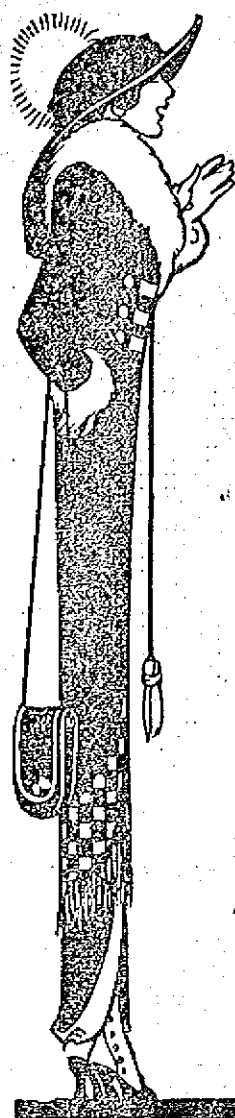

A large number of police officers listened attentively to the third of the series of talks by Dr. M. A. Tighe at the police station yesterday. The physician took for his subject the method of distinguishing alcoholic intoxication from the various diseases which at times show surface indications similar to it.

The address was in part as follows: "The principal conditions which you will be called upon to distinguish from intoxication are opium poisoning, choral hydrate poisoning, hemorrhage of the brain or apoplexy, concussion of the brain, uraemia and diabetes. Alcohol exerts its influence chiefly on the central nervous system. In intoxicating quantities it manifests itself by muscular incoordination. The man is described as staggering, he goes along with the head, chest and hips thrown far back, his chin elevated and abdomen thrown forward, presenting the picture of one who is walking on ice and is fearful that his legs slip forward, from under him. No, my friends, he does not walk this way for fear of splitting his cargo, but because the co-ordinating part of his nervous system has become so dulled that he feels it necessary to bring into play these certain groups of voluntary muscles. That which gives us our position in space and enables us to maintain a natural equilibrium—there are certain nervous impressions which are carried to the brain from our joints, our skin, our eyes and ears. When a person is intoxicated, the sensitiveness of this fine delicate system is impaired so that these nervous impulses are not carried to the central station or if so carried are not interpreted as they should be.

We have the other type of inebriate who carries himself with head and chest well forward as if he were top heavy and so we might continue an examination of the various forms of staggering gait that ensues as a result of alcoholic intoxication, but suffice it to say that they are all due to the influence of the alcohol upon the co-ordinating apparatus. There is usually considerable mental disturbance, the face is flushed, the pulse is full but compressible and the respiration deep. There may be unconsciousness, but it is very rarely so deep that the individual cannot be roused to some extent and in reply to the question he mutters incoherently, the pupils are dilated and active. There may be vomiting. The fact that the breath and the vomitus emit the odor of alcohol is by no means sufficient evidence of intoxication and should be taken only as a contributory fact in conjunction with the other symptoms which I have enumerated. I cannot emphasize this point too strongly. We discussed opium poisoning four weeks ago. You will distinguish it from alcoholism by the fact that in the former the unconsciousness is deep, in the latter, not deep; in the former, you are unable to rouse the patient; in the latter you may; in the former, the pupils are small and move but slightly and sluggishly if at all, upon being exposed to strong light; in the latter they are large and usually active; in the former the breathing is labored, slow and irregular; in the latter it may be slow, seldom as much as in the former, and usually regular. You will distinguish alcoholism from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy. If the fact that in the latter the unconsciousness may be roused; in the latter the pupils are larger, frequently unequal and do not move upon being exposed to strong light; in the former the pupils are large, equal and respond actively to strong light; in the latter the breathing is slow, deep and loudly snoring; in the former, snoring; in the latter, the pulse is big, hard to obliterate and slow; in the former, it may be big or little, easy to obliterate and rapid.

You will distinguish alcoholism from concussion of the brain, by the fact that in the latter, while it lasts, the unconsciousness is deep there may be but little change in the breathing, it may be rapid and shallow, the pulse is apt to be small, rapid and feeble, and the pupils contracted. You will distinguish alcoholism from choral hydrate (knockout drops) poisoning by the fact that in the latter the unconsciousness is deep, in the former the individual may be roused; in the latter the pupils are small and generally insensible to light; in the former they are large and active. Uraemia is a poisoning which develops in the course of inflammation in the kidneys. On account of this inflammation, the kidneys are unable to secrete the urine in proper amounts. The waste products of the body are not carried off and a condition of uraemia results. In uraemia there are convulsions; in alcoholism, rarely. In uraemia the unconsciousness is deep. In alcoholism, seldom so deep but what the person may be roused. In uraemia the pulse is big, sometimes impossible to compress or completely shut off. In alcoholism it may be big, but is easy to compress; there is no difficulty in shutting it off. Diabetes is a disease which sometimes you may be called upon to distinguish from alcoholism. Here again the unconsciousness is deep. The breathing is slow and sighing and occasionally gasping in character. Again I wish to emphasize that you

Sales Campaigns

SUCH testimonials as the following from the J. E. SOPER COMPANY, wholesalers of grain and feed at 206 Chamber of Commerce, Boston, furnish unimpeachable testimony of the value of the telephone, especially the toll lines, in sales campaigns.

We quote a paragraph of a letter to the Company from this concern;

"We find that the telephone takes the place, in a large degree, of men on the road, and that our business is done in a much more satisfactory way by having a man sell our goods from the office, as he then knows everything a salesman should know concerning the quality, location and other features of the goods, whereas a man on the road does not always have his information and is frequently induced to guess it, which does not work at all."

We would not suggest this rule in every case. The advantages of face-to-face salesmanship and the magnetism of a personality, coupled with the importance of showing many lines of goods, are not to be depreciated. On standard lines, however, once the salesman's personality is established, the telephone is an efficient auxiliary, and especially helpful to the salesman in making advance appointment.

TRAVELING MEN interested in little stories of the advantages of the telephone as a business auxiliary, are invited to send for "Modern Methods of Money-Making." In Metropolitan Boston call the Contract Department Fort Hill 7600. Elsewhere call the Local Manager.

RESERVES CALLED OUT

Boston Crap Shooters
Attacked Officer

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Using his youthful prisoner as a shield when he found that he had no revolver with which to ward off the attack of a mob of hoodlums, Patrolman Thomas Walsh of station 6, South Boston, yesterday succeeded in putting 15-year-old Patrick Rouse under arrest, after he had been struck several times with bricks and stones.

The efforts of the gang to take their comrade away from the officer grew so determined from the time he first arrested the boy for shooting craps, that the mob clung to the policeman's heels almost to the station house, and was only felled in its purpose by a sort of reserves.

As a result of the encounter Walsh was bruised in several places by the bricks and stones which were showered upon him. Another of the reserves who dashed out of the station house on Broadway to Walsh's rescue narrowly escaped being struck by a flying half-brick.

Walsh was assigned by Capt. Lee to watch out for crap shooters, and started out in plain clothes. He got within 15 feet of a game before he was noticed, and the gang scattered. After a chase of a block he collared young Rouse and started him toward the station.

The crowd regained courage in narrow Silver street, and had grown to menacing proportions when Broadway was reached. The hoodlums grew bolder when they saw Walsh reach for his revolver, to find that he had left it in his uniform at the station.

Probation Officer Farnalee refused to release young Rouse when he heard of the circumstances. Other arrests are expected.

TOWN MEETING

Draught Citizens Will Meet March 3
Warrant Containing 24 Articles Posted for the Meeting

The date for the annual town meeting of the citizens of Draught has been set for Monday, March 3. The warrant which contains 24 articles has been posted and the most important articles are the following:

Article 7 asks that the sum of $35,000 be borrowed to defray town charges.

Article 8 calls for an appropriation of $3000 to continue the macadam work in Lakeview avenue.

The next article is of the usual order and asks that $1500 be appropriated the same to be paid to the water district for hydrant service.

Articles 10, 11, 12 each call for the maintenance of new street lights.

Article 13, to raise and appropriate $300 for repairs to the town office.

Article 15, to raise and appropriate $2000 for the continuance and completion of the macadam work in Pleasant street, between Hovey square and Harris street.

Article 17, to raise and appropriate $5000 for further repairs to Mammoth road.

Article 18, to raise and appropriate $600 for necessary repairs to Bridge street as ordered by the county commissioners.

Article 19, to raise and appropriate $5000 for the establishment and maintenance of a park on the plot at the junction of Mammoth road and Lakeview avenue.

Article 20, to raise and appropriate $205.13 for the share of paying the town's share of the assessment levied in building a sidewalk at the Hildreth cemetery in Hildreth street.

Articles 21, 22, 23, 24 relate to the acceptance of new streets and the abolishment of certain others. Also improvements of a minor nature to others for which a net appropriation of $100 is asked.

WILLIAM C. ROYER

Lowell Man Has Case in Court of Equity at Lawrence—Case Heard for Ten Days

LAWRENCE, Feb. 24.—In a court of equity proceeding before Master Thomas C. Crowell Friday morning, evidence in the case of William C. Royer, now of Lowell, against Annie E. Bowser of this city was finished before the noon adjournment and the case was closed in the afternoon session after the lawyers of each side had summed up their case in an hour's argument. Charles A. McDonough of Boston was the counsel for the defendant while Attorney J. S. Murphy of Lowell represented the plaintiff.

This case has been heard for 10 days and 24 witnesses have been examined, including some prominent men of the city. Mayor Scanlon was present Friday and testified as he was the one who made out the deed.

John and James Royer had resided in this city for 40 years and last had resided at 24 Broadway. It was at one time employed as a conductor between this city and Boston, but has been dead for the past 20 years. The widow before she died lived at 117 Oxford street. When she died the Broadway property was willed to the grandchild, Herbert L. Royer, and the Oxford street property went to Annie E. Bowser, who had lived with them for 35 years and had been considered as their child. It is said.

William Royer, the son, who got other property, was not satisfied and brought suit, claiming that the deceased was not of sound mind when she willed the property.

Herbert L. Royer who got the Broadway property, is now a manager for the Victor Talking Machine Company of Boston.

SEARCH FOR GOLD PROVES FATAL

One Nearly Starved to Death, One Lost Two Feet, Another Became Insane and Died

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Feb. 24.—Of the three prospectors who started a month ago from Atlin, a placer camp on the Yukon line in search of gold, one nearly starved to death, one lost two feet and one became insane from cold and died. It is reported in advice received today. The men started from Silver Creek. They had to break their own trail and traveled light, expecting to replenish their stores at a trading post near Jasin lake. The trading post was found abandoned. One man, sent back for more supplies, lost his way and was rescued by Indians when nearly dead. The mind of the one remaining, a Swede named Lindemann, became affected and in his desire for warmth he jumped into a campfire. Redmond, his companion pulled him out, but he died later. Redmond buried the body in the snow and turned the dogs loose and followed them wherever they went. They finally led to an Indian camp and the Indians took him to Atlin, where both feet were amputated.

ALLEGED "LABOR TRUST" ATTACKED

Federal Government Files Civil Suit Against Chicago Unions Engaged on Strike

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—An alleged "labor trust" was attacked by the federal government in a civil suit filed here today against local unions numbers 9 and 131 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers engaged in a strike against the Postal Telegraph and Cable Co.

As part of the labor war against the telegraph company the government charges officers and employees of the unions with combining and conspiring through acts of violence and depredations to injure the Postal Telegraph Co. wires to interfere with the transmission of government and commercial messages in interstate commerce. The alleged interference is declared to have been deliberate.

While restraint of interstate commerce is alleged, the Sherman law is not specifically mentioned in the government's bill of complaint which generally declares that the defendants' alleged unlawful acts have violated the rights granted under the constitution and laws of the United States to the telegraph company and the senders of messages. The government asks that the defendants be enjoined from obstructing interstate and government messages over the Postal, from cutting, burning or otherwise injuring its telegraph lines and from interfering by threats, intimidation, persuasion or force with employees or prospective employees of the company. Pending final hearing the petition pleads for a temporary injunction against the alleged unlawful acts.

The following are named as defendants: International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, local unions number 9 and 131, Martin J. Healey, M. J. Boyle, W. J. Sloan, W. N. Harris, E. M. Lammie, J. J. Elliott, W. Conrad, E. D. Shanks, G. Florant, W. Saunders, H. Warner, W. Sinclair, S. O. Miner, A. V. Beckner, F. S. Allen, H. Coppi, M. O'Day, J. C. Carroll, J. R. Gault, Bert Coghill and Frank H. Carroll, all of Chicago.

Pointing particularly to the packing house industry centering in Chicago and the operations of the Chicago board of trade, the bill declares that without prompt and uninterrupted tele-

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Man Was Found Unconscious From Gas

William Forrester was found unconscious Saturday morning at his home, 131 Meadowcroft street, as a result of having been overcome by gas, and when discovered by one of his sons, was very near death. He was removed at once to St. John's hospital, where his condition is considered dangerous.

When Mr. Forrester did not arise on Saturday morning, nothing was thought of it, for Walsh's mill, where he was employed, closed down over Washington's birthday and he was therefore not scheduled to go to work. Late in the morning the odor of gas was detected by one of the man's sons, and when he rushed to his father's room and broke open the door he found him unconscious and lying partly dressed upon the bed. As far as can be learned, the escape of gas was accidental, a gas jet being slightly open. It was his custom, it is said, to lock his door upon retiring each night.

Dr. J. B. A. Johnson was summoned and he with several others worked for a time in an effort to bring the man to consciousness and afterwards had him removed to St. John's hospital. This morning it was said that the victim's condition had not improved and but slight hopes are held out for his recovery.

Calvary Baptist Church
The sermon at the Calvary Baptist church last night was preached by the pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Dill, who took for his subject, "Two Great Men." The church was filled to the doors and the service was followed by a patriotic song service, the music combining to a remarkable degree the spirit of worship and patriotism.

ADJOURNMENT IN DORR TRIAL

Illness of Defendant Causes Interruption in Case—Several Witnesses Heard

SALEM, Feb. 24.—Because of the illness of the defendant, the trial of William Dorr of California, who is charged with the murder of George Marsh, was adjourned after several witnesses had been heard at the forenoon session today. Dorr was suffering from tonsillitis when court adjourned Friday, but his condition was considerably improved yesterday and his physician declared that the trial could go on today. Soon after court convened he had a severe chill and Judge Quinn ordered an adjournment until 2 o'clock. The opening of court was delayed nearly an hour by a private conference between Harry C. Atwell and Attorney Neil Bagney, representing the prosecution and defense respectively, and Judge Quinn. The conference was held in the judge's chambers and no indication of its nature was given out. After Judge Quinn took his seat on the bench, William Hinson, a Heaton handwriting expert, testified that the writing in the "diary" which was read Friday, the letter to Miss Orpha Marsh offered in evidence and other exhibits submitted to him were all done by the defendant.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

Wants Plumber Elected to Board of Health—Mayor Still Ill—Other City Hall News

The Trades and Labor council, speaking for organized labor, suggests that if there is to be a vacancy on the board of health it should be filled by a practical plumber, and one that would have the courage and ability to see that all laws and regulations are properly and impartially enforced. The letter to Commissioner Lawrence Cummings from the secretary of the council tells the story:

Dear Sir:
During the past year the board of health of the city of Lowell has been composed of two physicians and one druggist. It has been a number of years since any member has been conversant with the laws and regulations of the practical enforcement of the laws regulating the plumbing business. The result has been that the enforcement of the laws has been very inefficient. We feel that the best interests of the city of Lowell will be promoted by the election of a practical plumber as a member of the board of health and as members of organized labor and citizens of the city of Lowell we urge you to consider the election of William P. F. Kenebeck, a man with a wide knowledge of the plumbing laws and with the courage and ability to see that all laws and regulations are properly and impartially enforced.

Hope that you will see your way clear to favor the candidacy of Mr. Kenebeck and by so doing help to place a member of organized labor in office at city hall, I am,
Sincerely yours,
J. H. Shepard,
Secretary Local 400.

The Mayor Still Ill
Mayor James E. O'Donnell is still quite ill at his home in Mt. Vernon street, though it was stated this forenoon that his condition was somewhat improved. The mayor was threatened with pneumonia, but it is believed that he has passed the danger line. He will not be able, however, to attend the meeting of the municipal council called for tomorrow afternoon and he probably will not be able to leave his home for a week or ten days. His honor was booked for quite a number of engagements this week beginning tonight with the Fat Men's club. This "bunch" of jolly good fellows has planned for a good time. City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy will represent the mayor at the banquet.

Storage of Gasoline
Commissioner Lawrence Cummings went to Boston today to consult with the state police relative to the storage, use and sale of gasoline in the city. A number of persons in Lowell who handle gasoline seem to think that Commissioner Cummings has been a bit too stringent in his policy for the handling of the stuff. The commissioner has required that tanks containing gasoline shall be buried in the ground and that all pipes leading to the tank shall be covered in order to prevent danger from cigar butts, cigarettes or lighted matches. The commissioner has been told that other cities do not exact such precautions and dealers have suggested that it rather hampered the business. "I want to find out just what the state police have to say about the handling, storage, use and sale of gasoline and whatever is their policy I will follow it out to the letter. I will see them this afternoon," said Mr. Cummings.

Your Redemption is Nigh
H. L. Burnette, editor of "The Little White Dove," published in Chicago, Ill., has addressed a communication to City Clerk Flynn, together with a declaration in which it is hinted that the Messiah is on the way. Chicago is referred to as "City of Zion" and the chances are that if the Messiah gets by Chicago he may come east and, with the supplication of the local board of trade, he might decide to settle in Lowell. Mr. Burnette wants to know screws, wash pins, etc.

Lumber and Hardware
Commissioner Cummings, whose department includes lands and buildings, has made requisition for about $1200 worth of lumber for "buildings and the supplies of the local board of trade. He might decide to settle in Lowell. Mr. Burnette wants to know screws, wash pins, etc.

French Catholics
Held Meeting Yesterday Afternoon to Discuss Need of a New Church in Pawtucketville Section

The French speaking residents of Pawtucketville held a meeting at the Social club of that district yesterday afternoon for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee appointed some time ago to take the census of the district and also to ascertain if it was the desire of the residents to have a French Catholic church in Pawtucketville.

The report was to the effect that the majority were in favor of the establishment of a church, providing the Oblate Fathers will be in charge. The figures from the census are as follows: Families, 430; working people, 1655; children, 530; total population, 2415. Already the sum of $2373 has been subscribed toward the new parish, providing the Oblate Fathers are put in charge.

It was decided to send a communication to the Oblate fathers of St. Joseph's parish through a committee of five in which the residents of Pawtucketville request that the Oblate fathers submit to them what their plans are in respect to the establishment of a new French parish in that district. A definite answer is asked to be given within six months.

The committee which was in charge of taking the census was composed of the following residents of Pawtucketville: President, Oliver Poirier; Rodolphe Descheneaux, J. S. Lippe, Arthur St. Hilaire, Wilfrid Jean, M. Poirier, Oliver Poirier, Emery Cognac, Napoleon Martin, Clement Dumais, Joseph Harvey, J. E. Rochette, Clement Dumais, Fred Theriault, Arthur Ferri, Horace Chiquars, Joseph A. Frechette and Walter Alexander, ex-officio.

Among those who were called upon to speak during the meeting were the following: W. W. Thibodeau, J. E. Lambert, R. Descheneaux, J. S. Lippe, Arthur St. Hilaire, Wilfrid Jean, M. Poirier, Oliver Poirier, Emery Cognac, Napoleon Martin, Clement Dumais, Joseph Harvey, Vital Robert, Andre Belanger, Ferdinand Dion, Frank Leclerc, Alfred Leblanc and several others.

Miss Laura A. Knott delivered the last of her series of talks on Tennyson Friday afternoon before the Tennyson Women's club and it proved to be as interesting and thoughtful as the preceding ones. In this lecture she took up and discussed some of the best works of the famous poet dwelling on the delicate points of construction and showing in a pleasing way the motive of each.

Grass Fire
At 1:57 o'clock this afternoon a portion of the fire department was summoned by telephone to Liberty street, where a slight grass fire was in progress on a tract of land owned by Mrs. Martina Gage. There was no damage.

MARKET IRREGULAR

AT THE OPENING THIS MORNING

Can. Pelt Three Points, Upset in Market By Wave of Selling—Trend Downward

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Opening of the stock market today was irregular, with a majority of advances among the more active issues. The copper stocks, as a group, were the strongest, advancing a point being made by Utah Copper and Canadian Pacific. The market was badly upset by a wave of selling which swept through the list. All sorts of rumors were against the copper and the effect was to transfer trading to other points on account of expected legislation in New York state. Can was the first stock to back badly, yielding six points on heavy selling. Acute nervousness spread to high-class railroad stocks. U. P. fell 2 3/4, Reading 2 5/8, and Lehigh Valley 2 1/2.

W. C. T. U. HELD CELEBRATION

MRS. L. M. N. STEVENS
President National W. C. T. U.

MISS ANNA GORDON
Vice President National W. C. T. U.

40th Anniversary of the County Organization Observed—Mrs. Stevens a Speaker

A large body of enthusiastic temperance workers gathered at High Street church Saturday afternoon to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the county organization. It was a W. C. T. U. jubilee and national officers were among the speakers. The county work was started in Ayer, on the 22nd of Feb., 1873, by a small band of women from Worcester, and later in the year the organization of the work was perfected in the church where the jubilee was held Saturday.

The president of the local union, Mrs. Lily A. Clark, welcomed the guests and then followed many presentations of flowers to Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens and Miss Anna A. Gordon, president and vice president at large of the National W. C. T. U. Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, president of the state organization, Mrs. Abby J. Rolfe, president of the county organization, and later Mrs. Clark was herself surprised by her friends, receiving, as president of the local union, a beautiful bouquet.

In behalf of the church, Rev. A. C. Ferrin extended a welcome to the women present.

The Mayor Represented
Mayor O'Donnell, who was to have welcomed in behalf of the city, was prevented by illness from attending and he sent as his representative, City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy.

Special Guests Introduced
Then followed an introduction of special guests, with a few words spoken in response. Descon Edwards, of Cambridge, who is 91 years old, and a stalwart prohibitionist all his life, ascended the platform and gave his optimistic message concerning the temperance cause.

A letter was read from Rev. George H. Allen, one of the strongest workers in Ayer, at the time of the formation of the union. He reminded the meeting that that was the second county union formed, the first having been in Worcester.

Rev. J. M. Craig was called upon, and said: "I am glad that we are coming more and more into the Bible standard. There was a time, even in

New England, when a woman was not allowed to go on the platform. I am exceedingly glad that this meeting is occurring in this city."

Response to Greetings

Mrs. Hamilton, the newly elected vice president-at-large for Middlesex county, was introduced by the president, and the latter responded to the greetings. "We are very happy," she said, "to have received these cordial welcomes. I am sure we need no assurances, because we know we are welcome. I have been asked to reminisce a little in regard to the formation of this society. Forty years ago this morning it was raining harder than it is today. It was pouring rain, and it froze as it fell, so that it was very difficult getting about. I had been asked to meet at the 8 o'clock train in the morning, some women from Worcester who were coming over to Ayer to try to assist the people in temperance. I met six women, and conducted them to the 8 o'clock train. Five women listened to the sermon from Worcester. We were led by Mother Gifford. I cannot say we were cordial in our welcome. We listened to the sermon, and toward the close of the morning session this question was asked: 'Are you women in Ayer not willing to try to do something to put away these open saloons?' We did not say we were not willing. So the morning session closed.

"During the two hours' intermission, a great many women came in, and some girls and boys from the high school came from curiosity. The word had gone around that some women were actually holding a meeting without any man or minister to pray or preach. One of the selectmen of the town was present, and one of the school keepers. When the boys and girls came in those women saw their opportunity. They made these girls and boys the text for a sermon to the Christian mothers. One after another the women arose, until eight had risen; then the selectman rose, and the women from Worcester, burst into song, 'Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow.' We eight women and the six from Worcester gathered around the stove and made our plans. We adjourned for one week, and tried to interest other women. From that day there has never been a week, to my knowledge, when the Ayer union has not been in working condition, as it is today." She asked if any were present from Ayer, and quite a delegation responded. They were given the "white ribbon cheer."

"Early in the fall," continued Mrs. Rolfe, "the first public meeting of this society was held in this church. We were told in Ayer that if we continued our work we should ruin the town. We admitted that we were doing our best to shut up the saloons, and said we were willing to run the risk. In 1874, county presidents were appointed."

State Officers' Greetings

Then followed greetings from officers of the State W. C. T. U., the president, Katherine Lent Stevenson; Mrs. Harriet T. Todd, vice president-at-large; Mrs. Isabel A. Morse, treasurer; Mrs. Janette Hill Knox, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary E. Cheney, assistant secretary; Mrs. Helen G. Rice; recording secretary, Miss Mary W. F. Anderson, secretary of young people's work.

A short history of the Middlesex county W. C. T. U. work for 40 years was given by Mrs. Augusta R. Brigham of Malden, the secretary. She said that the Middlesex county organization was the foundation on which was built the state W. C. T. U. Mrs. Livernose, Miss Anna Gordon, Mrs. Stevenson, Katherine Lent Stevenson and many other workers were from Middlesex county.

The assistant secretary, Dr. N. Louis Brand of West Newton, read messages from the presidents of the following county organizations: Worcester, North Plymouth, Hampshire, Bristol, Barnstable, Franklin, Dukes, Worcester, South Norfolk.

Other Speakers Heard

There were also words of encouragement from Miss Foster, national superintendent of press work; Miss Sewell, national superintendent of flower mission work; Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon, national organizer; and letters of congratulation from others.

Mrs. Stoddard, of Boston, superintendent of institutes, spoke briefly of her work, as did Mrs. Clara A. Webster, of Leominster, superintendent of work for the luncheon; Mrs. R. F. J. Rounds, of Bristol county, state superintendent of press work; Mrs. Fribbie of Maine, national superintendent of medical center work.

Hon. John B. Lewis of Boston, who brought greetings in behalf of other temperance organizations, was given the white ribbon cheer.

Nostril devotions were led by Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Todd, and before the intermission, Mrs. Hamilton, vice president for Middlesex county, gave to the county president, Mrs. Rolfe, a bouquet of 40 gold pink carnations, and a gift of gold.

Luncheon was served by the ladies of the church, in the lower rooms.

The Afternoon Session

The afternoon session was opened at 1:45 o'clock, Mrs. Helen G. Rice conducting devotional exercises.

Mrs. Luce, state superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, was presented, and spoke a few words for a new manual for teachers, and a set of charts.

Mrs. Sanderson, representing the juvenile work of the Good Templars organization, said that the U. O. G. T. was the first organization that gave equal suffrage to women, over 60 years ago.

Rev. S. A. Jackson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, extended congratulations and spoke words of commendation.

Katherine Lent Stevenson, the state president, spoke briefly. "What," she asked, "if there had never been organized temperance work in this country? It is absolutely unthinkable; and every one of you, whether you march in our ranks or not, ought to thank God for the temperance work of the last 40 years." She urged that the Middlesex county organization, in this jubilee year, ought to move up into the 2400 membership line.

A letter was read from Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, who was prevented by illness from being present.

Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon, a former acting president, referred in a brief address, to the position of the temperance workers, before the legislature. "Some day," she said, "we women will sit down in the seats, and men will be up there under the codfish."

The National President

The president of the National W. C. T. U., Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, who was the chief speaker, said in part: "This anniversary is a very meaningful occasion, for it signifies much for a society, especially a reform society, to steadily go its way for two score years. I consider it a great honor and privilege to be permitted to participate in this jubilee, the significance of which has been ably and interestingly portrayed by Massachusetts white ribboners."

I presume there have been held in our nation alone during the past year at least 750 thousand W. C. T. U. meetings, and all of them to a more or less extent have been jubilee meetings, for all through this year and other late years the temperance cause has been making progress. Considering the mighty magnitude of the movement we have reason to rejoice and not to be discouraged in any degree.

Speaking of the temperance victories of the last two years, Mrs. Stevens referred to the prohibition victories in Maine, West Virginia and other places. "The most remarkably significant victory of the year," said the speaker, "is the passage of the Kenyon-Webb bill, virtually the same measure as the Hepburn-Donnelly bill, the Littlefield bill or McCumber-Bacon-Sanders bill, all familiar bills to our prohibition workers. A man well qualified to judge said he considered that the National W. C. T. U. meeting held in the Balchore theatre, Washington, on Dec. 15, 1912, the most influential temperance meeting ever held in Washington. The speakers were all women, mostly W. C. T. U. presidents of prohibition states, and all of us pleaded for protection from the invasion of out-of-state liquor sellers. The next day and the next, we listened to great speeches by three senators in the senate, all on behalf of this measure. You all know, on Feb. 8 the house of representatives passed the bill by a vote of 229 to 64 and that on Feb. 10, the senate passed the bill by a vote of 61 to 23. The title of the bill is 'a bill divesting intoxicating liquors of their interstate character in certain cases.'

When this bill becomes the 'law of the land,'—and we trust nothing will prevent it,—the way will then be clear to take up actively the joint resolution for an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which was presented by Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson on Feb. 1, 1911. We must work more and more for state-wide prohibition and for laws to secure its enforcement and all the while we must keep headed toward Washington with our motto, National Constitutional Prohibition.

Among temperance victories of the year I may well mention the woman suffrage victories, for there is no doubt but that woman suffrage is a help to the temperance cause. One great proof of this is the fact that the liquor trade is always opposed to woman suffrage as you who read their journals and who know of their work in the campaigns well know. The claim made by some anti-suffragists who profess to be temperance people that woman suffrage is a hindrance to prohibition is absurd and untrue. Only last October in conversation with Judge Ben Lindsay in his home city of Denver, he said to us that he surely would have been defeated four years ago, the most critical time in his career as judge of the juvenile court, had it not been for the votes of the women.

To be sure no suffrage state has account prohibition but we take into account the preponderance of men voters. Prohibition gains are made in every state where women have the ballot. It is true not only in the states where women have voted a long time but in the new suffrage states. I quote from a recent letter received from Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, well known to white ribboners. She writes from Grant's Pass, Oregon: "So far as I have heard every town in Oregon which has voted since the women were given the ballot has gone dry. It was quite noticeable in this town. At the last election when men alone voted the men voted the town and county wet by a good majority. December 2nd, the men and women voted it dry by a vote of two to one."

Vice President-at-Large

Miss Anna A. Gordon, vice president-at-large of the national W. C. T. U. and who was the friend and companion of Miss Francis E. Willard, paid a glowing tribute to Miss Willard, to Mrs. Stevens, the national president of today, to Mrs. Stevenson and to local, county and state workers in the W. C. T. U.

The meeting was closed after a vote of thanks to the hostesses and to all who had assisted, and the singing of "Bless Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the white ribbon benediction.

Inaugural Parade

Although no Lowell companies are included in the quota of the Massachusetts militia which will attend the president's inaugural in Washington next month, Gardner Pearson of this city will act as chief of staff to Governor Foss. Mr. Pearson as adjutant general will hold the rank of brigadier general on this occasion. Fifty-two companies of the Bay State citizen soldiers will be in line at this event with representatives from thirty-two cities and towns.

SEVERAL ASSAULT CASES

Tried in Police Court This Morning

DRUNKS FROM SATURDAY AND SUNDAY WERE NUMEROUS

Large Docket in Court This Morning

Made the Session a Long and Tiresome One—Many Spectators Present

Anatole Barrett was arraigned in police court today charged with assaulting his wife Anna, on February 8. Mrs. Barrett on the stand testified that on the day in question the man assaulted her. Her husband fired a string of questions at his wife until stopped by the court. The son, Armando, corroborated his mother's testimony and told of the trouble he had with his father; he also stated that the defendant had attacked Mrs. Barrett, during his stay, stated that he had trouble with his son, that the latter wouldn't work, but his wife said otherwise. The man said he works for the Home Coal Co. and it is said that previously Mr. Horne had gone bond for him to keep the peace. He was committed to the house of correction for a term of four months.

Assault and Battery

Assault and battery on Mrs. Moody was the charge against Mrs. Jean B. Verdon. Mrs. Moody on the stand said that on Feb. 20 she had a controversy with the defendant, when the latter took the liberty of throwing garbage and rubbish down upon her premises. The women, it seems, live in adjoining tenements in First street. The plaintiff said that for a long time Mrs. Verdon had been bothering her with unwelcome contributions of "swill," etc., to her yard.

Mrs. Verdon testified in her own defense and said that she received through a lock back upon the other woman's piazza, but that it did not strike her. Loretta Verdon, the defendant's little girl, was a witness and corroborated her mother's statements. The plaintiff, however, showed marks which she alleged were caused by the stone, and in addition she exhibited the stone in court.

Mrs. Verdon was found guilty and fined $5.

Another Assault Case

Antonio Joepuska entered pleas of guilty both to drunkenness and to assaulting Antonia Kovak. The latter was a witness and described the affair. His brother, he said, had a celebration at his home which included a keg of beer. A quarrel took place and the defendant struck him several times with a piece of iron and with his fist. Plaintiff said he did not strike the other nor provoke him in any way. It was with difficulty that Dan Deahut finally succeeded, per interpreter, in persuading the witness to get down to the story of the actual battle. At the conclusion the man was fined $15 for the assault and the drunk charge was filed.

And Yet One More

There was another assault case in this morning's session and the principals were John Karsak, defendant, and Joseph Dalkis, plaintiff.

The alleged affair took place on Jan. 11 in East Merrimack street, said the plaintiff on the stand. Karsak, he said, struck him several times, cutting his face. He showed stains on his coat sleeve which he stated were caused by the blood, which issued from the wounds. Karsak was fined $20 at the conclusion of the testimony.

Fined $25 Each

Louis Ducharme and Helen Martin were arraigned on a complaint charging them with a statutory offense, to which they pleaded guilty. They were ordered to pay fines of $25 each.

Civil Satisfaction Given

The case of Ernest Soucy, who some time ago was arraigned on a charge of two counts of larceny aggregating a sum of approximately $300 from the Local Branch of the Plasterers' International Union of America, was brought up again in police court today. It was stated that the money had been restored and the complaint was filed.

Keeping Disorderly House

Randall T. Wyman was accused of conducting a disorderly house. His case was continued and he was held in $200 for next Monday's session.

Continued Asin

Attorney Dan Barabara appeared for William Brandon, against whom there was a charge of vagrancy. An effort is being made to locate friends or relatives of the man in Connecticut, where he claims his home is. He was held until Saturday in $200.

atives of the man in Connecticut, where he claims his home is. He was held until Saturday in $200.

Drunken Offenders

David Lyons paid $5 for a Sunday drunk. Joseph McEvoy also forfeited $5. Patrick McLuskey was in for his third time and he was sent to the state farm.

John McFee was fined $5. It was the third time for Patrick McCarthy, and Officer O'Rourke, who made the arrest, said that the man's wife had complained on him. He got a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

Patrick Curtin paid $6 for a second offense.

James Dacey pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, but the officers testified otherwise and Probation Officer Slatery surrendered him from his care. He was sent to jail for three months. He appealed and later withdrew it.

John O'Donnell was committed to the state farm. John Sydney was in for a third offense. He was on probation for a similar misdemeanor. This time he was sent to the state farm.

William Lamour had a first offense of drunkenness registered against him. His uncle was in court and testified that the defendant had demanded entrance to his house and on being refused started to "mess things up," smashing in a door by way of friendly greeting. His case was continued to tomorrow morning.

James E. Planney came in to withdraw an appeal made a few days ago and sentence was affirmed. Peter Gillick pleaded guilty to drunkenness and his case was continued to Saturday.

Andrew F. Carr paid $5 for a drunk. D. M. Ward was in for the third time in a year, and he was delegated to the state farm.

Timothy Desmond for a second offense paid $6. Louis Fletcher received the same sentence. For Peter Bellmore it was a third visit and he will reside in jail for four months.

George Tromblay's wife testified that her husband had struck her and threatened her on Friday night when he was drunk, and moreover that she is afraid of him when he is intoxicated. At other times, she said, he is a good man and supports his family. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a chance on probation with a three months' sentence over his head.

Octave Duchane paid $5 for a Sunday celebration. Alphonse W. Martel was likewise assessed. Mary Baren was a third contributor to the same cause.

ROYALTY ABROAD GETS THE FEVER AND MAY FORM A HOCKEY LEAGUE NEXT SEASON

Ice hockey seems to have taken a firm hold on royalty abroad. During the recent winter sport carnival at St. Moritz, Switzerland, a number of members of the different royal families of Europe could be seen almost daily playing the strenuous game. According to reports, a league may be formed next year among the members of nobility who visit the resort during the winter months.

Live Bits of Sport

It was a great disappointment to the members of the Lowell Social and Athletic club not to be able to watch Gilbert Gallant and Johnny Doherty go their scheduled 12 rounds on Friday night.

Germany is already devoting great attention toward the next Olympic contests. The government has appropriated a large sum of money for the expenses of the meeting in 1916 which will be held in Berlin and the various schools have been supplied with the best athletic instructors which are best to procure. This climax was reached, however, when three members of the royal family joined the Berlin A. C. in order to take part themselves in the athletic events. The time came and shortly when America will not have the reputation of the great producer of athletes if the foreigners keep plugging the game.

At the annual open games of the San Francisco Olympic club held Saturday night, Ralph Rose of California again broke a record. Rose made a shot of 45 feet, 5 1/2 inches with the 15 lb. shot. The former record stood at 44 feet 3 1/2 inches was also held by the California giant. But Donovan also broke his own record with the 56-lb. weight, hurling the huge ball 15 feet, 7 inches, an inch beyond his former mark.

Tabor of Brown is the most erratic of the top-notch millers in the game today. Powers of the E. A. defeated him Saturday night at the games in Providence with only a six yard lead over the Brown athlete. Powers' time for the distance was 42 3/4. Oscar Hedlund, who was scheduled to run, but did not appear, would have had difficulty in pulling out this event.

The stocky German fighter with the blonde complexion now knows what his sobriquet means. Although the Mexican would undoubtedly have beaten the New York lightweight it was gratifying, from the standpoint of the backers, when Brown consented to duck into a vicious swing.

O'Mahoney, of Lawrence High, who finished second in the hurdle event, nevertheless displayed more knowledge of timber-topping than any man in the race. Capt. Bailey of Lowell beat him by a speedier finish. If Bailey used the three strides instead of four Lowell could win points next week at the B. A. A. Intercollegiate. Bailey should prove a much faster man on an outdoor track than indoors, especially on the local track. This sprinter possesses a powerful stride and banked corners always break up the knee action in a well developed stride. The Lowell captain should be able to step out a creditable furlong as well as a fast century.

LEAGUE GAMES ROLLED

Several Good Matches
on Local Alleys

The Manchester Y. M. C. A. league bowling team was defeated Saturday by the Lamsons in a very close contest. Feyer of the Lamsons and Scribner of the Manchester rollers were high with strings of 238.

There were several good games rolled on the local alleys as well with the teams in the various leagues putting up the best scores. The games in detail are given below:

DIAMOND NOTES

A championship team is a fine thing in the fall, but when one tries to sign up in the spring they will surely cry in anguish. Inquire of McAleer of the Boston Red Sox.

Terry Turner, the veteran Nap, will round out a decade of service as a Cleveland player next season. Right now Terry looks to be in better physical condition than at any time during the last five years.

Young catchers in the American League to fill the places of Sullivan, Street, Stephens and Schmidt, are Sweeney, Schalk, Stange and Schang.

President McAleer of the Red Sox has a hook well baited for Bobby Wallace. He wants to get a man who can take Wagner's place when the latter gets injured.

Casper Hageman, after having made a hold-out fight for one full season, has decided that he will return to the Denver club and has signed a contract to play with the Grizzlies next season. Hageman came to Boston (owned as a coach-beater and cost the Boston Americans $5000. He didn't quite make good with the Red Sox.

George Stone, who when playing with the St. Louis Browns a few years ago, is trying to land a berth as a minor league manager.

The chances are that the New England league will have an entirely new staff of umpires next season.

Pitcher Nap Rucker of the Brooklyn Superbas says that in his opinion Jim Sheppard of the Cubs has the greatest batting eye in the National league.

It is said that the combined salaries of the three regular outfielders of the Boston champions is less than the salary to have been demanded by Ty Cobb from Detroit.

President Locke of the Philadelphia Nationals has signed Hugo T. Wedel, a former college player, and at present a member of the faculty in the University of Kansas.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Plans Progressing for the Great Parade on the 24th Should Prove to be One of Largest Ever Seen Here

The list of the Irish Catholic Organizations which have expressed an intention of taking part in the parade on March 23, in response to invitations from the general committee in charge of the event, is rapidly growing. The members of the committees who are going about to the surrounding cities and towns addressing the members of the societies in regard to participating in the procession have done a great deal to assure a large and magnificent turnout of the organizations on the day assigned.

The Catholic club of North Chelmsford, the Holy Name society of St. Andrew's, the Church, Hillier, and St. Mary's Cadets of Lawrence have received invitations to be represented in the parade and all are expected to be present in large numbers in the ranks. Other societies of Lawrence, Haverhill, Nashua and the surrounding towns have been visited by the general committee and have accepted invitations to march. The parade should prove to be about the best seen in Lowell.

Tonight there will be a meeting of the general committee at which important matters will be discussed and acted upon. The matter of decorating the city on this day, which has already been talked over by those in charge, will come up again at the session tonight and in all probability the societies will request the business men to cooperate with them in this work. This will be undertaken by a sub committee which in all probability will be chosen this evening.

As yet, the number of divisions which the parade will include has not been decided upon by Chief Marshal McMahon. It is settled, however, that there will be an A. O. H. division and a Holy Name division. The officers must await the completion of the list before deciding upon this matter. There will also be a large out of town delegation.

Decorating for the Parade

Charles F. Young, the decorator, wishes to announce to the public that he is prepared to contract for a large amount of decorating for the St. Patrick's day celebration which is to be observed on March 23rd and he requests those who intend to decorate on that day to send in their order early and be among the first to decorate. Don't put it off until the last few days. Having the largest stock of decorations in New England he is able to do the work at reasonable prices and he stands behind every job. He employs no agents. Don't be deceived by irresponsible parties. Telephone 1348. Mr. Young will be pleased to call and talk the matter over with you.

Card of Thanks

We, the undersigned, wish to return our sincere thanks to our many friends and acquaintances, who by sympathetic kindness and floral offerings helped to lighten the burden of sorrow, in the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary Riley. LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM DEFEATED LAWRENCE HIGH
BY SCORE OF 60 TO 16—LARGE CROWD WITNESSED EVENTS

THE LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM

The largest crowd that has been a high school track meet in years turned out Saturday night to watch the local boys hand a bad beating to the team from Lawrence High. There was no doubt as to the outcome of the meet from the start the only event in which Lawrence excelled Lowell being the high jump. The final score was Lowell 60, Lawrence 16.

When the two semi-finals in the 30 yard dash were decided Lowell found herself with only one man in the finals against three from Lawrence. That one man, however, lived through his heat and sent for a definite purpose as he fully demonstrated by winning the final heat in the fast time of 34.5 seconds. The winner, Charlie Carter, was up against the real thing in the sprint line, too, when he faced the starter with Westland and O'Mahoney. Westland was too eager and broke when halfway down the stretch. Both the distance events, the 1600 yards and the mile, were easy pickings for the Lowell distance specialists, Varum Bowers. This boy cleaned up his rivals without any difficulty and landed ten points for his team, a feat that is not common particularly among the distance runners.

Captain Bailey was also right there strong as usual and contributed ten more points, winning both the 300 yard dash as well as the hurdle event. He got a poor start in the initial contest or perhaps the scoring would be different in that event. Bailey showed great form in all the stretches. Eddie Cawley found the shotput very easy and was not obliged to extend himself in order to win. His put of 41 feet and 7 inches, however, was the best mark of the season. Cawley also gave the crowd a good laugh by his antics in the high jump. When the Lowell strung man found that he could not jump the last height he deliberately went out and dove head first over the bar. The spectators showed their appreciation of the feat in no uncertain way. Spaulding was an easy winner in the 600 yard run from the flash of the gun. This boy was never headed for a minute and finished in good form in the fast time of 2:27. Spaulding is running better with each contest.

The relay race was a runaway affair, the Lowell sprinters having the better of the argument from the time that Carter hit the first bank until Bailey brushed across the tape. The Lawrence men could not take the banks to begin with and it would not have done them much good if they had been able to negotiate the Lowell corners for man for man, the local relay team was too fast an aggregation for them. John O'Reilly was the starter and the Dorchester High coach allowed but few getaways. Every final heat was from a fair start.

of all the great pitchers. But it is that wrist that counts. Wood's right hand is abnormally large, but it is graceful in comparison with most baseball players. The fingers are long and with unusual muscles. The wrist is tremendous. It is a huge band of muscles surrounding the small bones at the junction of the hand and arm. This marvelous wrist makes it possible for Wood to pitch the "snap" ball without wearing himself out.

You know what baseball has done for our English language, now take a peek at what it has done to Spanish. This is from the story of a game played in Havana between the Lincoln Giants and the Almendares team and is taken from La Prensa, a Havana daily:

Primer Inning
Gigantes—Poles out on fly at right. Wright fallece on fly a la inicial. Gans no las ve pasar.—SKUNK.
Almendares—Palomina recib la baze por bolas. Costa se sacrifico. Strike struck out. Julian dispara un hit al short y Palomina gana el home. Castillo es corpendido al querer estar en segunda.—UNO CARRERA

Segundo Inning

tar rebarse la segunda.—SKUNK.
Almendares—Hidalgo llega a prim- era por error de Grant. Cabrera out en plancha a la tercera. Igando Jabuco hata la antenata. Romach out en rolling a Wright. Papo out en rolling a Wright.—SKUNK.

BASKETBALL NOTES
The South Ends and C. Y. M. L. will again come together tomorrow evening in an effort to decide who's who in the basketball world. The event will be pulled off in Mathew hall and the boys from the South End confidently assert that they will retrieve the laurels lost at the initial meeting. The Lyceum will present the same line up, but their opponents have made several changes. Canney and Fred Fahey displacing "Chick" Dowd and "Joe" Fahey. "Arty" McMahon, the Auburn-haired vice president of the South End club, will be captain and a real blood game is expected. The boys from the Acre are satisfied that they can repeat the trick of last week.

GERMAN AVIATOR'S FEAT
Josef-Suvelac Had Narrow Escape

ESSEN, Germany, Feb. 24.—Josef Suvelac, the well known German airman, had a narrow escape from death yesterday while attempting a venture: some flight in his monoplane from this city to London, England. He ascended during a dense low lying fog. After passing through this and reaching a higher altitude, his compass got out of order. As he could not see the earth he attempted to steer by the sun but after an hour's flight lost his bearings and determined to land. He glided down through the banks of fog and then noticed that he was over the North sea. A storm was blowing and the spray from the waves was drenching his aeroplane before he could succeed in starting the motor again and rising away from danger. He turned his machine around and soon afterward the fog cleared and he made his way to Deventer, Holland, where he landed after a voyage which had lasted one hour and forty-five minutes.

FREDDIE WELSH OF ENGLAND CLAIMS THE WORLD'S LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

FREDDIE WELSH

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Freddie Welsh, who has been calling himself the world's lightweight champion, is down-right sore on the American fight experts who say he has no right to the honors. Frederick declares he has a firm hold on the title. In talking about the matter recently Welsh said: "I defeated Willie Ritchie, who is proclaimed by American experts as the rightful holder of the title, on the Pacific coast two years ago. I also won the champhonship of England from Matt Wells and championship of Australia from Hughie Mehegan. So you can easily see that my claim to the honors is not without foundation. I am willing to meet Ritchie again to decide who is the better man, but evidently William isn't any too anxious to sample my choice collection of wallops. However, I will journey to America in a few weeks and force him to meet me. If he refuses I will defend my title against all comers."

EASTERN EXPERTS PREDICT DUNDEE WILL DEFEAT KILBANE FOR FEATHERWEIGHT TITLEKILBANE DUNDEE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Pugilistic experts predict that in a short time there will be a new featherweight champion on the throne. They believe that Johnny Kilbane has not been showing championship caliber in his recent bouts around here of late, while on the other hand, Dundee has been fighting in fine form. With both men in first class shape a good battle should result. Kilbane is a clever boxer who depends on his skill in order to get the decision. Dundee is a rusher and possesses a knockout wallop in either hand.

AUTO PLUNGED INTO MYSTIC RIVER

Driver Was Seized With Attack of Heart Trouble and Lost Control of Machine

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Struck with an attack of heart trouble, Temple F. Craig, 35 years old, of 21 Lawrence street, Wakefield, lost control of a touring car he was driving at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon just after he had passed over the Wellington bridge into Somerville and the car, describing a wide circle, passed over a sidewalk, through shrubbery and plunged down a slight incline into the Mystic river.

Mr. Craig was alone in the front seat, but in the rear seat were Mrs. Craig and Miss Nellie M. Wilkins, 27 years old, who makes her home with the Craigs.

As the car plunged into the water the engine stopped and the automobile came to a standstill in the mud of the river bottom a few feet from the shore, but not soon enough to prevent the body of the car from being practically submerged.

Being prone on the front seat and helpless as he was from illness, Mr. Craig's body was nearly covered with water and he was in imminent danger of drowning.

The plunge of the auto with its three occupants down the river bank into the river was seen by Andrew Leahy, son of Thomas Leahy, draughtman at Wellington bridge, who had just stepped out of the rear door of the house.

Young Leahy heard the screams of women and looking in their direction, he saw the auto as it broke through the shrubbery, raced down the bank and plunged into the water.

Leahy ran to the scene of the accident and attracted the attention of George W. Brown of Melrose Highlands, who was driving a car on the boulevard, as he ran down the river bank.

He found Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins frightened and somewhat hysterical. They were standing on the rear seat of the touring car, and as Leahy wanted into the water they leaped out and waded ashore.

Mr. Brennan, joined Leahy and they lifted Mr. Craig from the front seat and carried him ashore.

A call was sent to the Somerville police station by a member of the Metropolitan police for the ambulance, and Mr. and Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins were carried to the Somerville hospital. The two women suffered only from fright, and the plunge into the water. They remained at the hospital until 6 o'clock. Mr. Craig had at that hour recovered from the attack of heart trouble, but it was deemed advisable to have him remain at the hospital last night.

The party of three left the Craig home after lunch yesterday to try out the car which Mr. Craig had not recently bought.

At the moment Mr. Craig's hands fell from the wheel, the car was on the right side of the boulevard, but as Mr. Craig lurched over he gave the steering wheel a slight turn and the car began to describe a wide circle. It bared quickly but steadily to the left, and passing over a bare space between the sidewalk and the roadway, crossed the sidewalk, mounted a slight embankment and plowed through shrubbery, covering 100 feet before it reached the river's edge.

Mrs. Craig and Miss Wilkins said last evening that they were so frightened that they could not remember distinctly just what happened after the car passed out of Mr. Craig's control.

Mr. Craig has had long experience with automobiles, and is the owner of several. He is the manager of a factory in Wakefield which supplies one of the large sporting goods houses in Boston with some of its specialties.

The automobile was not removed from the river until late yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred just after the tide began to ebb and it was not until it was near low tide that the machine was dragged from the mud but slightly damaged.

Unconscious by Gas Fumes

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—James Gulliver, 65, and his wife, Mary, 63, of 367 Dorchester street, South Boston, were found unconscious in bed at 7 o'clock last night in the front room of their home as a result of gas escaping from a leaky tube in the room.

They were given emergency treatment by Patrolman Moriarty of Division 12 and several young men, which resulted in partial recovery, and then they were hurried to the city hospital in the police ambulance. There they were placed on the dangerous list.

TO BE SUFFRAGAN BISHOP

Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere Will be Elected

It is rumored that when the Episcopal diocesan convention meets on April 2, the Very Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, will be elected suffragan bishop of Massachusetts to assist Bishop Lawrence in his arduous duties.

Bishop Lawrence has been advised by his doctors that he should be assisted in his duties, and he has intimated that the election of suffragan bishop would be acceptable.

Dean Rousmaniere when asked about the rumor said: "I have not heard of it. I should suppose that it was extremely unlikely." Bishop Lawrence refused to discuss the matter.

Another possible candidate mentioned for the position is the Rev. William H. Van Alton, rector of the Church of the Advent.

AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Rev. Edward Cummings of Boston the Preacher

Rev. Edward Cummings of Boston, successor to the late Rev. Everett Hale, spoke at the Unitarian church last evening. He said in part:

About 20 years ago many persons were studying and believing in "The Law of Natural Selection," and this they declared was the basis of evolution. In this the survival of the fittest theory was shown, the weaklings were all to be killed off and the strongest were to survive. And religion was to be merely the handmaid to this sort of evolution.

"Of late there has been talk of having people in various states write to their representatives and senators with suggestions about building a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, about constructing a highway through the battlefields of Gettysburg, or of erecting a marble memorial in Washington. My plan would be the construction of educational highways through the mountains of Kentucky, clear up through the White mountains. But my plan didn't amount to much. Yet what many persons would have citizens do about the construction of a memorial to the martyred president is the last thing under God's heaven Lincoln would have asked us to do."

About 100 years ago, said the speaker, the most unreligious, unphilosophical for the advancement of labor troubles was foisted on the world. Intelligent people thought they had arrived at the panacea for all such things. It was the law of unrestricted competition.

In substitution for the golden rule there has been taught a rule which goes "Do unto others what you would do and do it quickly, so that the other man shall do it to you." And this has been taught in our schools and in our colleges, said the speaker.

The great leaders of thought are just beginning to learn that in the industries of the land efficiency and success are due to the application of the law of the family, the devotion of the strong to the weak. The kingdom of God must be allowed to enter the business house, if there is to be a measure of success in that business house. Only recently a big steel corporation announced that it had devoted $5,000,000 to welfare work.

"Your city will be a political family," he said, "if the law of the family obtains, and your children will be truly city fathers. The kingdom of your own individual life depends upon your acting a part of this great family and you cannot be of value in any other way. You can't keep strong in any other way. Your town house should be the symbol of the city family. You have the new fangled term of city hall, which it isn't. Town house is much better."

Warrant Has 60 Articles

ATTLEBORO, Feb. 24.—The warrant for the annual town meeting to be held March 3 contains 60 articles.

Farmer's Institute

A Farmers' Institute will be held in the Westford town hall on Wednesday under the auspices of the Middlesex North Agricultural society. Dinner will be served by Westford Grange. The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock, the speaker to be Sumner H. Reed, a successful farmer from West Brookfield, who will speak on the "Up-to-date Farmer."

In the afternoon the subject will be "Farmer's Clubs," and "The Value of the Silo." Questions may be asked by the audience pertaining to these subjects and will be answered by the speaker. Each year a farmers' institute is held in Westford in the winter and the farmers from this and surrounding towns attend and receive a great deal of benefit from the practical talks of the speakers.

TUMULTUOUS GOES MARCH 1

This Will Be Moving Day For Man Who Will Be Secretary to President Wilson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Joseph P. Tumulty, who is to be secretary to President Wilson, will move to Washington about March 1. He will then return to Trenton to assist Gov. Wilson in cleaning up official matters.

Mr. Tumulty has a family of six children, so he has engaged a large house in the Mt. Pleasant section of the city. He is planning in his presidential connection to conduct the office on practically the same lines as in the governor's secretaryship, only, of course, on a larger scale.

Mr. Tumulty is 35, a youngster as compared with some of his predecessors.

He is known as a "walking encyclopedia" on matters relating to congress and politics in general. He likewise has the personality required for successful work as private secretary to the president of the United States.

He will receive $50,000 and the use of an automobile in payment for his services.

WASHINGTON CLUB HELD BANQUET

Large Gathering Heard Ex-Congressman Sullivan and Other Speakers

Members of the Washington club and their guests gathered at the club rooms in Prescott street Sunday evening to enjoy the sixth annual banquet and entertainment of the organization which was also a formal observance of the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

It was a large and merry gathering that sat down to a most delectable feast which was served in the dining hall of the headquarters of the Washington club at about 7 o'clock. A grand display of patriotic decorations was seen in this hall in honor of the occasion. Draperies of bunting of the national red, white and blue adorned the walls, while large American flags were conspicuously in various parts of the banquet room. Each guest received a small "George Washington hatchet" as a souvenir of the celebration. After the dinner there were heard several interesting speeches by prominent men.

Dr. William M. Collins, president of the club, officiated as toastmaster of the evening and his introduction of the various speakers was pointed and humorous.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Dr. Collins briefly welcomed the members and guests of the Washington club. He read a letter of regret from his honor Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who, because of illness was unable to attend. Commissioner Andrew Barrett was called upon to speak for the mayor and to respond to the toast, "The City of Lowell," which he did in a very pleasing manner. In opening, Commissioner Barrett expressed his appreciation of the privilege of being present to address the members of the Washington club on such an occasion.

He said a tribute to his honor, Mayor O'Donnell, characterizing him as a fearless, conscientious and capable head of the city government and that there was no official of the past who gave more of his individual time to the affairs of the city than does the present mayor.

Speaking of the city of Lowell, Alderman Barrett said:

"I believe that we are entering into a new era of advancement and progress. We took a long step in that direction in the creation of our new form of government, which in its infancy at the present, perhaps, has not reached the point of perfection, but which gives every promise as time goes on, of getting nearer to it than ever before. As things stand now, there are fewer hands in the pot, likewise fewer channels through which the city's business has to pass before becoming operative, and naturally less time is taken in realizing what may be thought to be best in the way of getting satisfactory results. The method of doing the city's business is vastly improved and the opportunities to improve conditions are indeed great."

His concluding words were: "First of all, be what it is called in the parlance of the day, a booster, and not a knocker. Let us be fair in our criticism, for to be unfair and unjust in this particular, means a blow against advancement to our general welfare. We should support those who are doing the best and who are accomplishing results that are satisfactory. Common honesty, decency and fairness are what is needed in contributing to Lowell's future success. Let us have it by all means."

Hon. John A. Sullivan's Address

Toastmaster Dr. Collins introduced Hon. John A. Sullivan, former congressman, and now a member of the Boston commission of finance, as the principal speaker of the evening and he was given a rousing reception as he arose.

Mr. Sullivan is an accomplished orator and chose for his subject "Washington." His address delighted all present who listened attentively to his every word. In part, he said:

"In our moments of happiness it is well to take into account the character of men who gave to us the government which we enjoy in our present day. It is especially fitting to consider tonight the character of the man who did more than any other one in the making and building up of the foundation of this great republic. Few of us, perhaps, appreciate his work as a statesman, a leader, an organizer, a man who was conservative and yet there was newness in thought and action, a diplomat in the true sense of the word, and one whose reliance in the Almighty invariably played an important part in his every-day endeavors."

Washington was born in 1732, and in his early days, received a fine but not what is now considered a good education. If he had followed his own inclinations at the start, he would have remained in the circles of his home sphere in Virginia. But fate had something in store for him. At an early age he was called upon to represent the people of his community in various places, and when a young man, was actively engaged in military service. Later he returned to his Virginia home and lived for some few years the life of a simple, modest and honest country gentleman. These, perhaps, were the happiest years of his whole life. The time came when Virginia was called upon to send delegates to the constitutional convention, and Washington was the almost unanimous choice. The body of men who collected at this convention represented all walks of life, men of brilliant minds, diplomats, leaders and organizers. When it came to selecting a head, Washington was again the choice, for everyone saw in him a leader such as was sorely needed. He displayed the qualities necessary in the making of the strong character that was quite essential for the position. That he filled it with characteristic skill and diplomacy is only too well known to all of us. I pass over his experiences in the field of battle, for it would be futile effort for me to recall it at this time.

"At the age of 55, he went back to his home life again, apparently contented with the part he had played in freeing his country from the tyrannical yoke of England. But he lingered there only for a short time. Destiny responded to him and ever faithful and responsive to the call of his country, he returned to public life. The people looked about for one who could serve them with success and fidelity as their president, and he was their unanimous choice."

"Washington had a fighting spirit and a temperance that was wonderful. The great passion was there but the great will was there also to subjugate it to the ever and temperate, which were his at all times. His diplomacy in treating the problems which came to him were wonderful. Kindly at heart and generous almost to a fault, he could be as stern and unyielding when circumstances demanded it. His actions in dealing with the questions of peace, nonshaking and in straightening out difficulties with Great Britain showed him to be the great man and leader. His decided stand in remaining neutral during the conflict between England and France, stamped him as a man of strength. Based on all sides by those who believed that this country should take sides with France, and thus show our appreciation for the great assistance rendered us in our struggle against England, Washington was in such action the possibility of being everything that had already been gained, and refused to be moved from his position."

In conclusion the speaker said:

"In all of his messages one finds the characteristic reliance in God. How different he was from the modern statesman! His character was one that has gone by unmatched in most respects during late years. He never sought to deceive the people who elected him to the highest office in the land. He was ever faithful to his duties and there was nothing too small to attract his personal consideration."

"There are some things in which we have progressed since Washington's time, but there were virtues in those days which well might be exemplified by the statesman of the present."

Joseph Smith, the last speaker of the evening, was accorded an enthusiastic greeting and as usual his remarks were highly entertaining. He was warmly applauded at the close of his address.

Among those present at the banquet were the following:

Hon. John A. Sullivan of Boston, Postmaster Joseph A. Legare, Joseph Smith, William A. Hogan, Dennis J. Murphy, Albert J. Blazon, Jeremiah J.

STRONG CARD ARRANGED

For Weekly Meeting of Lowell Club

The Lowell Social and Athletic club will reopen on Friday evening, Pres. Gardner having eliminated all technicalities and the members will have the pleasure of witnessing the same qualities of clean bouts that have characterized former meetings of the organization. The program will be practically the same as that presented for last week. Gilbert Gallant notified Pres. Gardner that he is in condition to appear and a wife was sent to Doham. The local directors feel confident that both will be in good shape for the meeting. The members were disappointed at the postponement of last week's meeting, but are congratulating the president for his action under the existing conditions. All members will be glad to hear of the resumption of the weekly meeting and it is expected that all will turn out Friday night. A new lease of life has been given and considerable apparatus will be added to the equipment.

AUTOMOBILE SKIDDED

Dist. Chief Saunders Had Narrow Escape

District Chief Saunders of the local fire department had a narrow escape from serious injury Saturday afternoon when his automobile skidded in Moody street and crashed into a mail box at the corner of Aiken street.

Mr. Saunders was driving his car at a moderate rate of speed up Aiken street, coming from Centralville. When he reached the corner of Moody street, he turned his car into the latter street, and the two rear wheels skidded. The machine crashed into the letter box opposite Boyle's drug store, and the result was that one of the rear wheels as well as a mud guard were badly damaged. Mr. Saunders fortunately escaped without any injury.

WEEKLY SESSION

Considerable Important Business Transacted at Meeting of Y. M. C. I. Yesterday

The members of the Young Men's Catholic Institute gathered at their rooms yesterday at the regular weekly meeting of the organization and transacted a number of important matters. Several names were proposed and several new members admitted. The various committees reported progress in their various departments. On Thursday night the members will go to North Billerica to play a return set of games there with the members of the Mathew Temperance of the town. They will leave on the 7.25 car from Merrimack square. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. Preparations are in progress for the social and dance on the evening of April 13.

Antisubversive High Mass

On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock an anniversary high mass was celebrated by Mr. Wm. O'Brien, P. R. in St. Patrick's church for the deceased members of the church and sanctuary choir of the parish. A beautiful musical program was rendered at this mass, the sanctuary choir alternating with the church choir in the singing.

Malt Breakfast Food

Most Economical

When cooked a 15c package of Malt Breakfast Food becomes 15 pounds of delicious hot porridge. But do not buy it for weight alone, nor even for flavor; buy it for food value also, as analysis shows it excels in nutritive elements.

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT.

NO HEADACHE, SOUR STOMACH, BILIOUSNESS OR CONSTIPATION BY MORNING

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food that is making you feel like a prisoner in the system all the time. Cascarets are the most perfect laxative and purgative in the world. They are not a habit-forming drug. They are a natural, healthy, and safe way to keep the bowels moving. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

IS ON SALE

AT BOTH NEWS STANDS

IN THE UNION STATION

BOSTON

BUT LEANDER TRIES IT ON HIS DAD—DOING EXACTLY AS BOTH ALGERNON AND G.W. HAD DONE;

BUT WITH DISGRACEOUS RESULT, SAD TO RELATE, LEANDER'S FATHER WAS A LOW BRED POLITICIAN AND NEVER HEARD OF G.W.

WE MIGHT GO ON AND SHOW ANOTHER PICTURE, BUT THIS IS A FAMILY NEWSPAPER, AND SUCH SCENES ARE CENSORED

IT WORKED ALL RIGHT WITH ME

IT DIDN'T HIT ME

IT WASN'T YOUR RIGHT

NEVER MIND GEORGE WASHINGTON, COME INTO THE WOODS

NOW IF EVERYTHING WORKS OUT RIGHT, I WON'T GET NO LICKIN'

LET'S TRY IT AND SEE

I TELL YOU, SON, IT'S ALL BUNK

SON, I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU ARE A CAREFUL STUDENT OF THE LIFE OF OUR FATHER OF OUR COUNTRY.

ALGERNON CUTS DOWN HIS FATHER'S PET CHERRY TREE WITH HIS LITTLE HATCHET—JUST LIKE G.W.

LEANDER AND ALGERNON ARE DISCUSSING THE STORY OF G.W. AND THE CHERRY TREE, AND DECIDE TO MAKE A TEST OF IT.
